RACE OF DWARFS MAY BE LEFT AS RESULT OF WAR

Drastic Racial Changes Are Expected by Science to Follow European Struggle

THIS WAR WORSE THAN ANY

Losses All Told Number Ten Million and Hundreds Are Sent Home Insane from Stress

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The countries of Europe now at war may in future years be populated by a veritable race of dwarfs, if the war continues much longer, according to the speculations of some scientists. Interest is now turning largely away from the war itself and toward its ultimate effects, social and industrial. One or the most interesting questions presented is what changes the war will cause in the races of Europe, and this is of immediate importance to the American people, for by immigration we will share whatever heritage the war leaves to the European nations.

Napoleon's Wars Cited

Speculation as to the future size of Europeans is based largely upon the well known fact that the Napoleonic wars reduced the average size of the French people. This is an opinion commonly held in France itself, and is adequately established by the records of the army. Napoleon had repeatedly to lower the standard of height which he had set for his soldiers. Furthermore the measurements of the young men who annually offered themselves for compulsory service shows that during the twenty year period of the war the number of those rejected for insufficient size greatly increased.

A loss of size in itself is not important, but it pretty certainly implies a loss of other valuable physical qualities. Thus during the period of the great French wars, the number of conscripts who had to be rejected because of infirmities increased one-third.

Kills in Huge Numbers

Now the scientists who argue that the present war is to result in a physically degenerate European race point out that the present war is much worse than any preceding one. It is destroying men in unprecedented numbers. The total losses of Europe in killed, wounded and missing have been estimated as high as 10,000,000 men. Furthermore, the number of men who have been taken from the battlefields as nervous wrecks or insane is tremendous. The maddening monotony of trench warfare, the terrific shock of heavy artillery, the use of poison gases, all combine to render the war more destructive to human tissue than any that was ever waged before.

This side of the picture has of course been greatly emphasized in this country, while the other has been almost overlooked. There are a number of scientists who contend that war is beneficial and necessary. One of the most convincing of these is Dr. Otto Ammon of Jena, who points out that the conflict between nations is the most majestic form of the struggle for existence, and is really a working out of the laws of natural selection.

War Takes Strongest

The pacificists deny this categorically, asserting that the process of natural selection is reversed. Thus in the battles of wild animals in a wilderness, the weakest are always killed, the strong survive, and the breed is improved. In war, however, the strongest and fitest are forced to go to the front and be killed or maimed, while the unfit are carefully protected at home. The recruiting office says to the weakling citizen, "You are not good enough to

THINK LIGHT OF PRESENTATIONS

German Contention Other Vessel and Not Sussex Was Sunk Is Practically Disregarded

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Wilson's final word on the submarine controversy with Germany has been embodied in a note and was ratified by the cabinet today.

It was reported after the cabinet meeting that the note serves notice on Germany that another disaster resulting from a U boat attack in which an American life is jeopardized will mean a severance of diplomatic relations.

No hint of the exact contents came from the White house. It was stated that Germany will be informed of the president's decision within 24 or 48 hours.

The communication is sharp and concise and will permit of no lickering or extended negotiations. It is understood that it touches not only the Sussex case but sets forth proof of repeated violations by German U boat commanders of assurances given this government. It is reported that it will call for not only punishment of offending submarine commanders, but for assurances that Germany has changed her submarine policy in such a manner as to definitely remove all possibilities of a repetition of the incidents which have brought the two countries dangerously near a break.

Events in the submarine controversy have moved swiftly since the receipt of the German communication, admitting that a steamer was attacked by a submarine in the channel on the same afternoon the Sussex was damaged. Before the cabinet met today, it was learned from a

FAMOUS ARTISTS' CANVASES HUNG AT THE LIBRARY

Sixth Exhibit of the Art Association Opens on Sunday for Two Weeks' Stay

Twelve oil paintings, from the brushes of master artists who have long since "arrived", are being hung today at the public library—the sixth exhibit of the La Crosse Art association. The collection is said to be the most notable yet brought here by the association, as the canvases are all by men whose pictures form part of permanent collections of the largest galleries in the United States and Europe.

The exhibit, to which no admission is charged, will be open for two weeks. The pictures are being hung today, but lights are not yet in place, and other details will probably defer the opening of the exhibit until Sunday afternoon. The hours of the exhibit will be from 2 to 6 Sunday, and other days during the regular library hours.

In addition to the works of the dozen masters, four pictures recently purchased by a local art patron have been loaned to the art association for the exhibit.

Most of the pictures in the new exhibit are by New York or European artists, thus affording an opportunity for comparison with the work of middle westerners, since previous art exhibits here have been from the central section of the country. The pictures are loaned by the American Federation of Arts, Washington, D. C.

The International Situation

Mexico — American troops will remain in Mexico for the present at least, the cabinet decided today.

Germany — President Wilson has determined on his course of action toward Germany and will announce his decision within twenty-four or forty-eight hours. It is understood he has decided to demand an immediate "show down" on the submarine question.

LA CROSSE COUNTY TO HAVE ITS CHEST EXAMINED APRIL 27

County Medical Society to Make Free Physical Examination of Everybody on Public Health Day

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO LUNGS

Milwaukee White Plague Expert to Be Here; Women's Clubs to Give Co-operation

Every chest in La Crosse county is due to be tapped, stethoscoped and otherwise exhaustively explored on April 27, as the leading feature of a "Public Health Day" which the county medical society today announced. On that day a thorough physical examination, with especial attention to the breathing apparatus, will be made free of charge for every man, woman or child who appears before any physician in the county.

In the evening there will be a big mass-meeting at one of the La Crosse churches, at which Dr. George R. Ernst, head of all the anti-tuberculosis work in Milwaukee, will speak. Dr. Ernst will spend all of Friday, the 27th, in La Crosse, and his services will be at the disposal of any physician who desires to hold a consultation in connection with his examination of the people.

The women's clubs of La Crosse are taking an active interest in Public Health Day, and have promised the county medical society to lend their efforts toward making it a success. Members of the La Crosse Woman's club, the Catholic Women's League and the Twentieth Century club are all pledged to earnest co-operation with the physicians.

Dr. J. M. Furstman, city health commissioner and secretary of the county medical society, said today that La Crosse county's health day will be but one of a series. The state medical society plans to have a similar observance in every county in the state before autumn, he declared. It is part of a campaign, Dr. Furstman said, looking toward the establishment of a public practice of watchfulness against disease.

"We've got into the habit of going once or twice a year to the dentist to have our teeth examined, and incipient trouble taken care of," said the doctor. "It is equally, even more important to take as much care of our bodies in general. Many diseases which cause tremendous mortality are curable in their early stages. They can be detected in their incipiency, and headed off, if the physician makes regular examinations.

"Physicians will be glad to make thorough examinations at any time, and for those who are unable to pay they will unhesitatingly make the examinations without cost."

POLICE RELEASE MAN WHO BLAMES TROUBLE ON DOUBLE

John Berry, Winona county farmer held here as a suspect in connection with four worthless checks passed on local merchants two weeks ago, was released last night by the police. They were unable to find any evidence to contradict Berry's declaration that a double closely resembling him passed the checks. None of the merchants who were victims were able to identify him.

BIZARRE TALE OF KIDNAPERS TOLD WHEN BOY RETURNS

Rudolph Krueger's Disappearance Solved When He Comes Back Home with Remarkable Story

SEIZED AND CARRIED AWAY

Captors Take Him to La Crosse Where He Escapes with Pocket-knife and Flees to Aunt's Home

A bizarre story of two male kidnappers, one dressed as a woman, who seized him in the front yard of his home, threw him into a covered wagon and drove away with him; and of escape by means of his trusty pocket-knife, was related to his parents today by Rudolph Krueger, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Krueger, well-to-do farmers residing on Mormon Coulee Ridge, seven miles east. Rudolph returned this morning from La Crosse, after having been missing since Wednesday evening, when the family left him in charge of the house while they attended the wedding of Henry Krueger, one of Rudolph's older brothers, to Miss Minnie Hoffman, who resides with her parents between La Crosse and Onalaska.

Family Feared Foul Play

Suspicion of foul play had been attached to his disappearance by his family, when they returned home early Thursday morning to find the house brilliantly lighted, doors unlocked, but no Rudolph. Search of the premises and the neighbors' homes found nothing, and Fred Krueger, a brother consulted Judge C. W. Hunt yesterday. Judge Hunt put the police on the case.

At 8 o'clock last night the police received a telephone call to the effect that Rudolph was at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Caroline Krueger, 1216 State street, and dropped the search. They had not heard of the boy's wierd tale until notified by a reporter, and were unable to verify any of its points.

Mrs. Krueger, Rudolph's aunt, was not at home this afternoon, and it could not be discovered if she had any data to throw on the boy's account of his adventures.

Rudolph's Tale

Rudolph told his parents, when he trudged into his home shortly after breakfast this morning, that he was standing in the yard at the farm about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening when a covered wagon drove past. The wagon stopped, he said, and two people got out. One was a man—the other was dressed as a woman, but seemed to Rudolph to be a man in woman's attire. They seized him despite his struggles, Rudolph says, and threw him into the wagon. Then they drove off.

With his pocket-knife, Rudolph told his parents, he managed to spring the lock on the door of the wagon-box, when the wagon stopped at a place in La Crosse. While his captors were away, Rudolph avers, he crept from the box, and ran to the home of his aunt.

CARRANZISTAS ARE DEFEATED

Villa Men Victorious in Two Places and Cattle Train Near Parral Is Attacked

BY E. T. CONKLE
(United Press Staff Sorrespondent.)

EL PASO, Texas, April 14.—United States troops around Parral are facing a critical situation, according to reports received here today.

A supposedly Vilista band defeated by the American troops at Troya last Monday retreated toward Parral, an official Mexican report stated. The victorious Uinted States troops pursued but found sentiment against them at a high pitch in Parral. The clash between the Mexican mob and the American detachment followed on Wednesday.

Reports were also received of Villistas or independent bandits between the American advance and the San Antonio (Mexico) base of the United States expedition. One party of 200 bandits attacked a cattle train only three miles from Parral. This force may have been among the Mexicans who fought the American troops in the streets of Parral.

De Factos Defeated

Other bandit forces in that vicinity defeated the Carranza garrison at Pilar De Cochos, driving them back on Parral. The de facto troops at Del Valle also were beaten by the guerillas.

If the Carranza garrison in Parral joined these Villistas or independent bands against the American forces, the situation would become critical, it was admitted here.

The question whether the Carranzistas took part in the fighting

General Holway in Madison Announces Confirmation from Washington

That the war department has officially announced its intention of placing a trained aviator in the militia radio signal corps to be established soon in La Crosse was made known today in a dispatch from Madison. The message states that Adjutant General Orlando B. Holway has received this announcement from the war department.

Captain F. H. Fowler, head of Company M here, which will soon become Aero Corps A, has received no official word to this effect from General Holway, he told the TRIBUNE today, although the promise of an aviator was made recently by General Holway.

Captain Fowler said today that he had not as yet received word when the signal equipment would reach La Crosse.

CABINET MEETING IMPORTANT

Future Course May Be Decided Upon at Meeting of Aids; Break in Ranks Predicted

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Wilson's cabinet, after consideration of the facts available on the Mexican situation, found itself unready today to change the avowed policy—get Villa.

Lack of definite information on events that led first chief Carranza yesterday to wire a renewal of his suggestion that the United States troops withdraw from Mexico, prevented the cabinet from deciding the future course of the United States army. But for the present, it was made clear, there will be no change.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—There is reason to believe that President Wilson has his mind made up that withdrawal of the United States forces from Mexico is essential to the humanitarian purpose for which they were sent into the country. There is reason, also, to believe that this view is not shared by several of his cabinet officers. The most likely outcome seen was a determination of the basis on which the withdrawal should be brought about.

Ground for expectation of this action was laid by the president last night when, forced by the events yesterday, he turned an address to democratic leaders into this challenge:

"Have you the courage to come out?"

That sentence sent several hundred banqueters away puzzled and they are looking to today's developments to clear the president's meaning. If it meant the president proposed to withdraw the United States troops there was marked indication last night that he will meet opposition in his own party.

But it was the phrase that every man present apparently had ringing in his ears.

Sees Fight in Ranks?

That the president recognizes a fight within his own ranks may develop, was believed shown by two other sentences:

"Frankly, gentlemen, I am not interested in personal ambitions. May I not admit even in this company

"WE BOTH SCORED SUCCESSES" SAY RIVAL WAR OFFICES

BERLIN, April 14.—French attempts to attack German positions on the west bank of the Meuse last night were repulsed, the war office announced this afternoon. Otherwise there was no change on the Verdun front.

On the Russian front the Germans repulsed enemy attacks northwest of Dvinsk, south of Narocz Lake and north of Zirin. The Russians suffered heavily.

PARIS, April 14.—A weak German attack against French positions south of Douaumont, northeast of Verdun, was completely repulsed last night, the war office announced today.

On the northwestern front of Verdun, the Germans bombarded Hill 304 violently throughout the night but did not emerge from their trenches for the expected attack.

South of Haudromont on the east bank of the Meuse, and in the region south of Moulainville, the bombardment was lively on both sides during the night.

Carranza Ambassador at Washington Blames Americans and Says Withdrawal is Necessary

REPORT MACHINE GUN EMPLOYED

U. S. Forces Said to Have Opened Piece to Repel Attacking Mob of Infuriated Natives

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Mexican embassy yesterday afternoon informed Secretary of State Lansing that American troops to the number of 150 clashed with civilians at Parral yesterday, and that one American soldier was killed and several civilians wounded. A later dispatch from the Carranza commander at Parral said several persons were killed on both sides.

Estimates of the number of Mexicans killed at Parral range from a few to 100, consular reports to the state department declared today.

The consular reports came from El Paso and were based on statements from travelers.

These travelers related that the Americans had clashed with the Mexican inhabitants and had then withdrawn outside the city. The reports did not show the battle had been renewed at night as the Carranza embassy advices indicated yesterday afternoon.

The Carranza commander said a civilian, angered because Americans had "disobeyed" the order of the American government not to enter Mexican towns, had opened fire.

The American and Carranza commanders tried to prevent trouble but did not succeed, and American soldiers returned the fire.

The Carranza ambassador at Washington put the entire blame on the American commander and said that other instances of this sort may occur, as it is impossible to control the Mexican people. He cited this

PACKERS CAST ASIDE GERMAN TRADE TO GET SETTLEMENT

The packers have agreed in the future not to trade with the enemy.

The cases involved the seizure of cargoes from thirty-four ships, the estimated value of which was between $15,000,000 and $17,000,000. The Armour, Swift, Hammond, Morris and Schwerszchild & Sons companies of Chicago were owners of the cargoes.

COST OF LIVING IN LONDON HIGHER THAN IT IS IN GOTHAM

BY CHAS. P. STEWART

LONDON, April 14.—It costs more to live in London today than it costs to live in New York.

It costs more to live in the smaller cities and towns of England's provinces than it costs to live in the cities and towns of the United States.

Cleveland, Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, Dallas, San Francisco, Portland are cheaper places to live than Sheffield, Liverpool, Manchester, Hull and English cities like that.

Nevertheless, Britishers returning today from the United States insist their country still is the cheaper for the masses.

Their mistake lies in the fact that the English do without many things Americans consider absolute necessities. Most such things are so high in England today that only plutocrats can have them.

Practically the only exception in England's favor is clothing; and even clothing is higher. A good sack suit, English fit, which used to cost $20, now sells for $22.50. The price is still rising.

So are other prices. It is not a gradual rise. Hardly a day passes that an advance of 5 to 10 per cent is not announced in some staple.

Beef is 40 cents, mutton 28, pork 28; hardly any lamb is to be had; the killing of calves is prohibited; bread, 9 cents a 2-pound loaf; good butter, 42 cents; tea, 52 cents; very soft coal, $7.80 a ton; anthracite, $11.28.

Rentals are about the same as in the United States, but include nothing.

Cooking and lighting gas in a five-room flat cannot be kept below $10 or $12 monthly.

Telephone calls are 6 cents each.

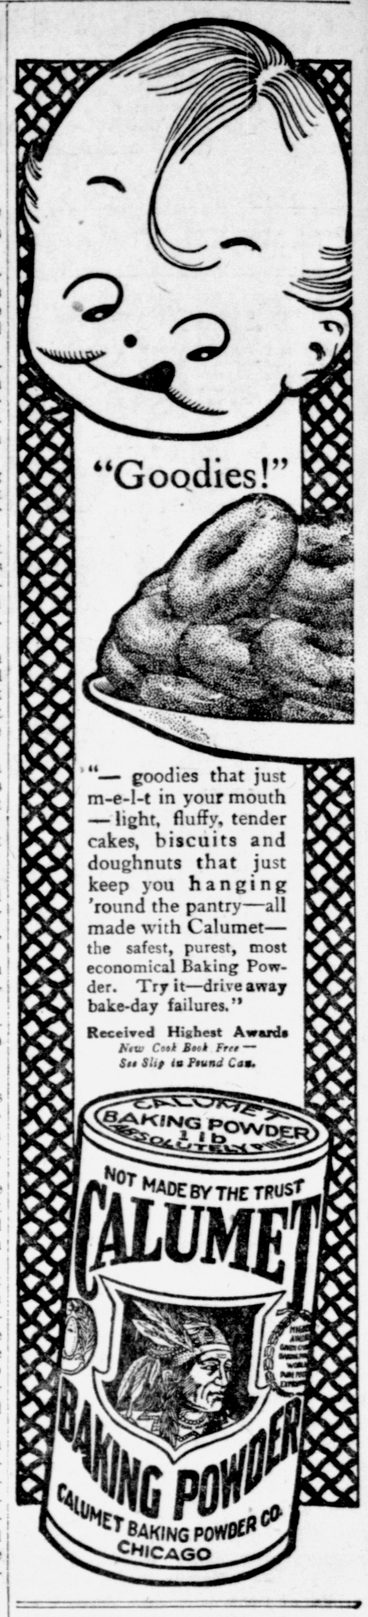

A five-mile street car ride costs 7 cents.

Cigars which would be dear in the United States at a nickel apiece, retail in England at 14 cents.

The distilleries being used by the government for munition making, it is predicted that whiskey which sold at 78 to 96 cents a bottle will soon retail at $2.40.

The income tax has risen until it is a fearful burden. It begins with incomes of 130 pounds ($640) yearly. The assessment increases more than proportionately as the income grows larger. A man earning $2,500 annually, pays 36 cents on every $4.80. If this income is from invested capital the rate is much higher.

The net result is that an English family, moving to America and continuing to live according to the English standard, would have more money than at home, while an American family moving to England and continuing to live according to the American standard, would have materially less.

THE SILO

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—(Special.)—The European war is teaching Wisconsin farmers that they are in position to supply many of the needs which hitherto have been met by importations from foreign countries.

State to Raise Drugs

It is not improbable that Wisconsin sources for high priced drugs will be developed. The state pharmaceutical laboratory located here is working along this line at the present time. Its officials have already found sources of several much used drugs in Wisconsin's marshes and roadsides. The field cultivation of some of the weeds or plants from which drugs are produced will undoubtedly be recommended in due course of time.

Use Home Rennet

Until the opening of the war American cheese makers depended almost entirely upon foreign countries for their source of rennet, a material which is necessary in the manufacture of either foreign or American cheese. Rennet is produced from one of the stomachs of milk fed calves and until recently these supplies have been shipped to America from Russia, Germany, Denmark and other European countries. There are but two rennet factories in the United States. One is located at Little Falls, N. Y., and the other at Madison, Wis. The managers of both of these laboratories are rapidly developing home supplies and in doing so are enabling butchers and farmers to make good use of what heretofore was a waste product. They are paying as high as 12 cents a pound for these stomachs and the Madison concern is getting the very best of stock from Wisconsin. It is estimated that there are between 1,500 and 2,000 butchers in the state and many of these have large numbers of rennets for sale. The remainder of the supply is furnished by packers in the large packing centers.

Leads in Guernseys

Wisconsin is increasing its lead as a Guernsey cattle state. Reports sent out from the office of the secretary of the American Guernsey Cattle club show that during the last month Wisconsin farmers purchased nearly 200 bred-for-production Guernseys. This number exceeds that of any other state, New York standing second with 150 transfers, Michigan fifth with 80 and Minnesota seventh with 24. This same lead has been maintained for several years.

Shorthorn Revived

The shorthorn breeders of the state are enjoying a revival in their business. Demands for cattle bred by them are coming from many sections of this country and several shipments have been made to the Argentine and other foreign countries. Officers of the Wisconsin Short Horn breeders associations are planning a breed show and combination sale at the university livestock pavilion in Madison on November 3. This will be the last of a Wisconsin circuit of short horn sales to be held this fall.

To Address Rural Workers

C. J. Galpin, secretary of the Wisconsin Country Life conference, has been invited to attend and address a conference of rural life workers which will be held at the college of agriculture at Lincoln, Neb., on June 14-23. Galpin's work in establishing rural social centers in Wisconsin has been copied in many states.

Tractor Investigation

What promises to be the most important farm tractor demonstration to be held in the United States this year will be that which has been called at the college of agriculture at Madison on September 4-8. The purpose of the demonstration will be to determine and show whether or not the tractor is a practicable source of power upon Wisconsin farms. The manufacturers are cooperating with newspaper publishers, local businessmen and representatives of the agricultural college in the planning of the event. Similar demonstrations are to be held in Dallas, Texas, Hutchinson, Kan., in July and St. Louis, Mo., Freemont, Neb., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Bloomington, Ill., and Indianapolis, Ind., in August. The Madison event will be the roundup of the American circuit.

Clearing Limited

Enthusiastic support is being given the planning of the land clearing limited, which in May and June will tour eleven counties in upper Wisconsin. The purpose of this demonstration train will be to show the best and most economic methods of clearing stumped land in the upper counties of the state. The train will be run under the direction of the agricultural engineering department of the university of Wisconsin. This tour will be watched with unusual interest as it is the first of its kind that has ever been made in any of the central states and possibly the country.

HUGHES SORELY TEMPTED DECLARES WORKS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Justice Hughes will become an immortal in American history by refusing the republican nomination for the presidency, Senator Works declared Wednesday in a senate speech opposing partisan politics. The use of the justice's name is an offense to the country, he added: "Partisan politics are everywhere," he said. "Just now they attempt to invade the sacred precincts of the supreme court. They present to a member the greatest temptation that could be offered an American citizen.

"Whether Justice Hughes is going to allow his name to be used as a candidate is of the most profound interest and great importance to the country at large. Whether one man or another is named at Chicago is of little importance compared with the question of whether the name of a member of the supreme court can be used to advance the interest or secure the success of any political party."

THE "BABIES" OF THE BRITISH NAVY FEARFULLY UGLY

((By United Press.)

ABOARD H. M. S. TORPEDO BOAT No. 00, SOMEWHERE IN THE NORTH SEA, March 13.—Visible proof that British ship yards have not been idle since this war began was seen from the deck of this little craft today.

Steaming slowly past a long double line of warships, observers aboard were able to look upon a new type of sea fighters, many types in fact, built for war and not for looks. These ugly colored craft with mottled sides and daubed plates were the "babies" of the fleet, "infants" who have plunged their noses into the sea without ceremony or publicity.

The sister yards from whence they came are turning out sister ships as fast as men can put metal together. No time is being wasted veneering the officers' cabins in mahogany or to putting the painter's touch on the hull and super-structure. These newest craft are just plain ugly, but they embody the latest kinds of efficiency for which naval constructors have the experience of the war to thank.

The make-up of these fleet "babies" must remain a mystery until after the war. In the meantime they are the secret pride of the British navy.

All potatoes have eyes, and some have specs.

ARMS AND HORSES WANTED BY H. S.

Arrangements are being made to have horses in the pageant. Miss Desmond plans to have some of the lords and ladies in Queen Elizabeth's court ride. Many pupils are anxious to ride, but only those who are accustomed to handling horses will be allowed to do so, as every precaution will be taken to prevent any accident.

A call for arms has been issued; that is, old swords, helmets, and other articles of the sort are wanted. Pupils are responding readily to the call, but many have not access to the things necessary. Information as to the whereabouts of such articles would be greatly appreciated by the high school. Information may be given to any of the high school pupils or to any of the teachers of the English department.

They all are very much interested in the success of the pageant is evident, from the preparations which are being made by the students for their costumes.

BATTLESHIPS HIT DAMAGE SLIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 14. — The battleships South Carolina and Michigan collided enroute north of Guantanamo, the navy department has announced. No one was hurt. Damage to the ships was not serious.

MEXICANS ACCEPT CANS FOR EGGS

COLUMBUS, N. M., April 14.—Army Aviators Dargue and Gorrell, waiting here today for the new high-powered aeroplane ordered by the war department for the Mexican service, told of trading empty tomato and gasoline cans to native Mexicans for eggs. The cans were prized for the construction of stoves and roofing houses. The basis of exchanges was a can for an egg.

Found Simple Remedy that Relieved Child

Mild Laxative Compound Corrects Stubborn Case of Constipation.

An important duty that devolves on parents is the regulation of their children's bowels. Health in later life depends in large measure on early training and a child should be taught from infancy to regular habits.

When from any cause the bowel becomes congested with stomach waste a mild laxative should be employed to open up the passage gently and carry off the congested mass. A most effective remedy for this purpose is the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. W. D. Bulls, of Reed, Okla., used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for her baby boy, Harley Buren Bulls, and says "It did him more good than anything we have given him. His bowels are very stubborn about acting, but they act easily every time I give him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin contains no opiate or narcotic drug and is a splendid remedy for children and older people as well. It has been on the market for more than twenty-five years and is the family standby in thousands of homes. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

VERSE and REVERSE

The System

It isn't what you make, my boy,
But what you save, that counts.
The folks that scimp and sacrifice
Have dough in large amounts.
We've often heard from wise old heads
This bit of sage advice:
The fellow who hangs on to his
Will always have the price.
If it costs ten a week to live
And you are making eight,
Hang on to all your surplus, lad,
And then as sure as fate,
It is a very patent fact,
Ere many decades lapse,
You'll be a multi-millionaire,
That is to say, perhaps.

Compromise Proposed

"You owe me $40,000 which you say you can't pay," announced the fiancier. "Why don't you marry that eldest Knowall girl; she's worth twice that amount."

"No, I can't do that; but you might marry her yourself and pay me the difference," replied the young Adonis.—Judge.

PORK CHOPS AND "PREPAREDNESS"

Than congressmen no class of citizens is better "hep" to the late Mr. Barnum's psychological formula that "the American people like to be humbugged", but our law-makers seem to accord no merit to the late Mr. Lincoln's addendum that "you can't fool all the people all of the time".

We've read of "pork" exposures by Mr. Frear and others until we've come to regard congress as a thriving rival of the packers' trust, and it is with admiration that we contemplate the latest ham raid under the bristling guns of the anti-porkers. This time the shibboleth for every new forage in the public strong-box is "preparedness". The Shields' water power bill was the first notable adventure under the new banner, and the senate fell for it so avidly that an additional water power steal is being attempted under that now tattered ensign. Not only that, but pork from knuckles to head-cheese is being sought in bills, amendments and riders, all in the sacred name of the national defense. Out of it all there is splendid promise of much pork and little "preparedness", wherefore that burning patriotism which is ninety per cent thrift and ten per cent "courtesy" rejoices and is exceeding glad.

KEEP POLITICS OUT OF CAMPAIGN

There is no higher American duty than that to keep politics "out of politics" in the presidential campaign of 1916.

That is, "politics" in the sense that is practiced by some three hundred congressmen who count the Anglo-hyphenates or the Teutonic hyphenates in their district before they vote upon purely national concerns. "Politics" in the sense of appealing to every breeze and eddy, every tide and under-tow "in the earth beneath and in the waters under the earth", in the contest of votes ueber alles.

We must expect, we must have dispassionate, frank discussion of our great problems, domestic and international, but we can not afford to accept the hazards that are bound to grow out of confusion occasioned by the ordinary petty pusillanimity of ward politics which too often make the aggregate of a national campaign.

Between now and November the patriotism of the patriotism-shouting politicians will be put to the supreme test, and we've a notion that the men who prove themselves the real patriots will be singled out by the people who march to the polls in November.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE MAY BE MISTAKEN

In his recent special article in the TRIBUNE dealing with the national guard, Gen. Orlando Holway expressed surprise at the wide dissemination among well-informed citizens of the idea that the president's authority over the guards is so limited as to render them no source of national security. General Holway proceeded with a legal argument and citations that seemed to annihilate that notion.

General Holway's impression of the broad-cast nature of this misinterpretation is confirmed by an editorial in the Chicago Tribune in which is assumed the very things that the adjutant general so ably refutes. If the Wisconsin officer is correct, that a great newspaper like the Chicago Tribune should not be familiar with the facts is indeed indicative of nation-wide ignorance upon the subject.

In order to bring the matter to an issue we have provided the Chicago paper with a copy of General Holway's article—now we shall see what we shall see.

PATRIOTIC PARENT

"Collier's" quotes from a letter said to have been received by a southern congressman from one of his constituents:

My youngest son has gone away and enlisted in the regular army. I can't get him out. Won't you help me? He is a good boy and I was raising him for my own use.

Fathers like this one make compulsory military service seem inevitable, if we are to have means of national defense, but the son answers the father and presents himself as an eloquent defense of the volunteer system. Meanwhile, one chuckles in appreciation of the financial loss sustained by the father in having lost the "use" of his independent youngster. May the whole d—n family join the army!

TOP O' TH' MORNIN'

It is the weakness of the church that the walls which separate denominations may be higher than that with which some good people would surround Christianity, of which neither should exist at all. There are in La Crosse many devoted pastors wh know and appreciate the work of Rev. Father Ambrose Murphy. Will any of them wave a friendly hand from the top of the wall?

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Had No Objection

A prisoner was in the dock on a charge of stealing and the case having been presented to the court by the prosecuting solicitor, he was ordered to stand up.

"Have you a lawyer?" asked the court.

"No, sir."

"Are you able to employ one?"

"No, sir."

"Do you want a lawyer to defend the case?"

"Not particularly, sir."

"Well, what do you propose to do about the case?"

"W-e-l-l," with a yawn, as if wearied of the thing, "I am willin' to drop the case, far's I'm concerned."—Case and Comment.

A Satisfactory Test

"So you want to marry my daughter, eh?" said the old man. "Do you think you have the patience and forbearance to make her a kind and indulgent husband?"

"Surest thing you know," replied the applicant for the son-in-law job. "I can button a collar on a shirt that is half a size larger, without getting angry, and—"

"Say no more," interrupted the old man; "she's yours. Take her, my son, and my blessing goes with her."—Unidentified.

Where He Could Find Out

An Edinburgh cabman was driving an American around to view the sights. In High street he stopped, and, with a wave of his whip, announced:

"That is John Knox's house."

"John Knox!" exclaimed the American.

"Who was he?" This was too much for the cabby. "Good heavens, man!" he exclaimed. "Did you never read your Bible?"

Handicapped

There was a trial on in a justice court in Texas. A witness for the plaintiff was on the stand and was giving damaging evidence against the defendant, who was represented by two old practitioners, one nearly deaf and the other nearly blind.

The nearly deaf one said to his associate: "What did the witness say?" The nearly blind one replied: "What witness?"

Genuine Faith Cure

Towne—Do I understand you to say that Spencers case was really a faith cure?

Browne—Yes. You see, the doctor and the druggist both trusted him.

Unfilled Ambition

We confess to a long unfulfilled ambition, and that is to be able to appear in a new suit or hat and not have everybody in the office comment on it.

Can You Beat It?

Hub—Well, it takes two to make a quarred, so I'll shut up.

Wife—That's just like a contemptible man. You'll sit there and think mean things.—Boston Transcript.

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE
(By Niksah)

ERZERUM

The Russians are holding Erezrum. Once again the battle-scarred old city has changed masters. The careful family man of the future, in moving to a new town, will pick out one that has absolutely no strategic importance.

The strategic importance of Erzerum, according to the military critics, is the most prominent thing about it. Before the war they would point out to you an insignificant little rill trickling lazily down from the hilltops, and tell you that you beheld the headwaters of the Euphrates. Erzerum controls the valley of the Euphrates, said the officials who formerly governed it, though just how she does it is hard for the layman to see. Similarly, they point northward and westward over the barren, sullen hills and tell that there lies the road to Constantinople. Erzerum controls that too. Verily, she is a powerful city.

Beautiful she certainly is not. There is something forbidding and inhospitable about the first glimpse you catch of her from the mountain passes. The walls and the houses are built of stone, lifeless drab stone, that neither harmonizes with the bare plain nor owns any positive hue of its own. Then, too, there is the almost total absence of trees. The rolling mountains are rough with a stubble of grass, but nearly as bare as the palm of your hand. There is something very gracious and inviting about a tree-studded prospect, something naked and inhospitable about the bare plain.

The city herself is a true daughter of the near east, with a motley populace of Armenians, Arabs and Turks. From within the walls, the scenery takes on a certain beauty after all—the beauty of great distances, wide spaces, magnificent proportions. The summer air is cool and keen, the summer sun is bright and piercing as a sword. Sparkling little streamlets trickle down from the hills. The evening smoke drifts over the walls like a veil between man and the clear sky. The lights filter through it, softened and diffused. Even in Erzerum, nature throws a halo of beauty about the bareness and the ugliness. It is man who has choked her streets with ruins and polluted her waters with corpses.

THE WINNER

By William Winter.

Copyright 1915—The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Win what?" asked Henry tensely.

But she had shaken herself together and, though she blushed, she faced him with a pretense of laughter.

"Why, anything you can win," she replied. And then Huddings returned.

"Great guns!" he remarked, "did you see the buzz that fellow was making? What time did you get him at?"

Henry gave the time at which he had caught the car. Huddings made a rapid calculation.

"Now, don't that beat time?" he murmured. "That little toy mobile was hitting a hundred and ten miles an hour! Good night!"

"What car will win the race, do you think, Hud?" asked Henry mockingly.

"All I got to say," said the driver, "is that the rest of us might as well fight it out for the place. That little rat will run the distance on a set of tires and a tank of oil and gas. What chance have we got?"

"I told you so!" said Henry, and Alice reached forward and patted the cowl of her jaunty car.

"I knew it all the time," she said airily.

CHAPTER XIV
The Battle of the Titans

It was the night before the fourth running of the Cosmopolitan Sweepstakes, the great five-hundred-mile race for which prizes of more than sixty thousand dollars, besides trophies that represented all the glory of motordom, were to be won by daring drivers and stanch cars. In the city, the lights burned brilliantly, illuminating the clear warm evening. Every bar and hotel was full to overflowing and a crowd that taxed the resources of the town was in about the same condition. Closing hours and restrictive laws were for the time forgotten and license, joy and lavishness reigned unchecked by police or public opinion. The streets were noisy with the honking horns of motor-cars and the shouts of their occupants—cars that bore the license plates of every state in the Union. The night wore on toward the dawn, while the pandemonium of the speed-mad crowd rather increased than lessened with the passing of the small hours. The strident racket was only interrupted and lessened by the constant soft and plaintive notes of a siren mounted on a car whose driver knew but one tune and that one Nearer, My God, To Thee. This he played indefatigably as he drove slowly about the town.

With the dawn, the roads leading to the Speedway took on their annual burden. Cars of every kind and degree began to filter out even before the early hour for opening the gates. By eight o'clock the roads were filled with long lines of vehicles, even an occasional horse being seen in the swarm of gasoline conveyances. The endless lines smoked and trembled and rattled as the slow procession, blocked by its own members, jerked its interminable way on low gear. The smell of burning oil and boiling water from overheated radiators mingled with the cloud of brown dust which rose from the road in spite of recent coats of oil.

At the Speedway stations of interurban and steam railroads, car after car and train after train pulled up and vomited loads of pleasure seekers. The gates to the vast enclosure were filled with crowding shuffling forms that pushed patiently ahead an inch or two at a time. Inside, horsemen clad in khaki uniforms directed the spectators to their places. The huge far-stretching grand-stands began to fill as though a sluggish stream were flowing into them. The bleachers on the turns were already crowded while the enormous field inside the track was rapidly being dotted with figures that from the distant grand-stands looked like swarms of black ants.

The murmur of the crowd crossed the track and reached to the neat garages where the cars were stored and guarded. The grimy men in overalls who worked calmly and busily with the big machines occasionally looked up and over the track at the crush of humanity. Such a crowd as this had never yet been gathered at any sporting event, not even at previous Cosmopolitans. In the row of pits along the straightaway men worked assiduously, placing and arranging tires and irons, gas and oil and spare parts of all kinds.

Before the door of his garage Henry stood and contemplated the crowd, his courage at low ebb and his thoughts gloomy and bitter. He and others were about to die to make a Roman holiday for these shouting, care-free, jubilant thousands, who only realized the danger in order to gloat over it. And to what purpose? For others there were glory and fame and the chance of fortune, but what for him? What for him, driving behind a crazy vehicle made up of scraps and junk, risking his life and his genius more surely than any other man there, without hope of doing more than finishing the race somewhere in the ruck of unconsidered losers. The prospect of fulfilling his boast and beating the Crescent loomed exceedingly remote to him then, as he brooded on the populace that was to cheer him on to danger and perhaps death.

He saw Marcella Parker talking to Jimmie, the bit boy, one of his helpers, but gave her no heed, though she stared at him superciliously. She had passed out of his life and only remained as a shadow of shame to him that he should ever have admired her chemical pulchritude. Her father had been there and gone to his seat in a box after pessimistically asking them to do their best. Marcella would probably soon follow him.

He did not know that she was exchanging opinions with his pit boy which were not at all complimentary. Egged on by the girl, who expressed a vicious desire to see Henry beaten, the boy was declaring that he would "fix" the inventor in some dark and dubious way.

Marcella went and then came Mr. Tredeker, and, behind him, Alice. The day, which had seemed gloomy enough to Henry, immediately began to take on the aspect of bright May. The moment he looked on Miss Tredeker, the race seemed no longer hopeless. He faced her father, who stopped on his way toward his own garage, and gave Henry a sportsman's greeting.

"Well, how is the great car this morning? Hope it's in prime condition to give us a run for our money."

"Ready and fit to run circle round that hack Verrens is driving," said Henry.

The car was, in fact, ready and fit, but the idea that it could run circles round even a hack should have struck its builder as preposterous, and would have done so five minutes before, but Alice Tredeker was smiling confidently at him and his judgment had evaporated entirely. Tredeker laughed tolerantly and passed on to stop for a few moments before the garage that held the chief hope of the Cresent factory. But Alice lingered behind.

"You are going to win?" she asked, and the question was a challenge.

Henry looked steadily at her, and though his manhood was largely her own inspiration, it proved too virile for her now. Her eyes veiled themselves under lowered lids and a warm flush, that was no product of Henry's imagination, suffused her face.

"It's quite an order," said Henry with a smile.

She mistook his tone and looked up quickly to encounter a very confident gaze.

"The bigger it is the more bound you are to fill it," she exclaimed. "You are not going to quit now! You can win, and you must feel it! You can do anything if you only will it hard enough."

Her interest or perhaps some feeling that her excitement led her to betray caused his eyes to light up with a new fire.

"I will win," he said. That was all, but her eyes were veiled again for a moment. When they opened it was not to their full width nor were they turned directly and frankly upon him. Instead, she cast a disturbed glance from their corners and bent her head so that he could get but a glimpse of her face. Embarrassment descended upon her.

"You must," she murmured, and turned to leave. She looked back half furtively as she went and when she observed that he was still gazing steadfastly at her retreating figure, she turned eyes front and hurried. But Henry watched her out of sight and then went to join Huddings, smiling as though he had been strangely encouraged.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND
by DAISY DEAN

Zubaydah Zourna, a young woman whose career as a globe trotter has included appearances in music halls and theaters in practically every part of the world, will be seen as the chief dancing girl in William Fox's Annette Kellermann spectacle now nearing completion in Jamaica.

Miss Zourna comes naturally by her skill in depicting the wild, langorous dances of the desert, having been born at Beja, Tunis. Her father was of a tribe of wandering shieks, and her early associates were people of the desert.

She was educated in Paris, became an artist's model there, and subsequently a stage and screen actress.

Zubaydah Zourna.

When Director General Brenon was canvassing the Fox forces in Jamaica for some one who could interpret the mystic dances of the east, he discovered Miss Zourna's ability, and entrusted to her the task of drilling and rehearsing the other dancers, as well as leading them in performances before the camera.

Ernest Truex In New Comedy

"Artie, the Millionaire Kid," is a five-reel Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature which gives splendid opportunities for Ernest Truex to indulge his talents for comedy. Truex was especially engaged for the production, and the young Broadway star is said to have done some of his best work therein. The story deals with the adventures of a youth who is turned out by his father when he is sent home from college in disgrace. Dot Kelly will play the leading feminine role in the film with a capable supporting cast. The picture will be released April 17.

The Universal company accomplished rather an unusual undertaking when it secured permission to film the interior of the church of the Blessed Sacrament at Hollywood, Cal., for a feature production. All the denominations are strict with the use of their churches, the Catholic more than any other being opposed to having the church used for outside purposes.

The report recently was spread that Cleo Madison umpired a base ball game for the Yale alumni at the golden gate, but it is just being made known that she officiated in a bathing suit. Miss Cleo was on the beach—but not near the water—when asked to umpire. The game was played near the lapping waves.

"My Partner," produced by Mutual and starring Burr McIntosh, was one of the spectacular melodramas of thirty-five years ago. It was first played at the Union Square theater, September 16, 1879.

NEW STONES FOR MT. VERNON

After several years' effort upon the part of the regents in charge of Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, it is believed that stones to replace the much worn flooring of the portico will be secured. At least they are now at a wharf in Yorkshire, England, awaiting shipment to this country. The stones have been taken from the old Bees' Head quarry of Cumberland England, where George Washington procured the first stones nearly 200 years ago. They are believed to be exact duplicates of the originals. The quarry is nearly 300 years old. It is located near White Haven, where Washington's grandmother is buried.

MORGENTHAU ASKS THAT HE LEAVE POST

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Henry Morgenthau, United States ambassador to Turkey, has asked President Wilson to relieve him of his post in Constantinople if it is possible, in the light of the present international situation. He has not sent in his resignation nor will he if the president deems it advisable for him to return.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. Margaret Grassman, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. George A. Dunbar, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. Kissling, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. INDIA STRONG FOR EMPIRE IS LONDON FEELING

BY WILBUR S. FORREST

LONDON, March 1.—(By mail.)—"What is the real truth about India?"

This question was asked by the United Press today in a quarter of official London in such close touch with India, day by day, that the answer cannot be regarded as other than official. The answer was:

"India is as firm as the rock of Gibraltar.

"The present war has served as the supreme test of the stability of British rule in India. There are 330,000,000 people in the Indian empire and consequently some strife is inevitable, in times of peace as well as in times of war. The responsible heads of the various castes, members of the Indian council, always are critical of the government, but they are as loyal as any British statesman who criticises his government on the floor of the house of commons.

"An example of this loyalty is shown in the fact that the Indian council, at the beginning of the war, agreed that India should shoulder a heavy burden of the expense. India is doing this, but the burden is not forced by England, as has been alleged. The burden is assumed voluntarily. Indian princes throughout the empire have in many cases voluntarily given large amounts from their treasure stores to help the home government. Indian native troops have gone to almost every front and fought with traditional native vigor, bravely bearing all the hardships of campaigning without a murmur.

"The native of India today is thoroughly loyal to King George V, whom he looks upon as his king-emperor. This is not entirely due to British rule in India. It is explained by the psychology of the native mind. Indians of all castes believe kings are made through the workings of something more than human intelligence. A king, therefore, who rules the Indians, whether he is the king-emperor or a native king, does so by reason of the fact that he has been so designated by something akin to the super-natural. The fact that a king rules India establishes in the native mind that king's right to rule.

"If India's 330,000,000 people were inclined to revolt, the time for revolution would be during the greatest war. Every Indian knows this and still there has been no concerted effort to break away from British rule.

"Indian man power and money power will continue to aid Great Britain throughout the war and in future wars if necessary. There is nothing to worry about in India."

Narcotics in Egypt.

The limited field in Egypt for the sale of manufactured tobacco other than cigarettes would hardly warrant its native there on a large scale. The native smokes cigarettes and tombac. Tombac is a mixture of tobacco and other ingredients, and is smoked in the water pipe. The local Greeks and Italians, of whom there are large colonies, smoke cigarettes and the cheaper grades of cigars. The higher grades of cigars and pipe tobacco are smoked by the better class of Europeans.

Miss Adele writes: "My hair is combing out, my scalp itches and dandruff is very annoying, and I want something to cure these conditions.

Answer: For hair and scalp troubles I have never found anything to equal the beneficial results of a thorough treatment of plain yellow minyol. It is cooling, cleansing and invigorating, and thousands now use it regularly as a hair and scalp tonic.

Henry J. C. writes: "Something seems to be wrong with my system and I don't know what it is. I have huge puffs under my eyes, my eyes are bloodshot in morning and my feet and ankles are swollen. Sometimes I have chills and feel weak and tired most of the time."

Answer: Your eliminating organs, such as liver and kidneys, are in need of treatment. Begin taking Balmwort tablets at once. Get them in sealed tubes with full directions of any well-stocked druggist.

C. M. C. asks: "Please relieve me of a coated tongue, foul breath, headache, constipation and general ill health."

Answer: If habitually constipated, you should take three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur) and arouse the organs which eliminate waste material from your body. These tablets purify the blood and improve the health by acting on the liver, kidneys and bowels. Obtain in sealed tubes with full directions.

"Sarah" says: "Can anything be done for one who is bothered with rheumatism. If so, please reply."

Answer: You can be relieved of your rheumatism if you take the following: Mix by shaking well and take a teaspoonful at meal times and at bed time and you will soon be relieved. Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp., 5 ozs.; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; iodide of potassium, 2 drams.

Miss Bertie L. asks: "What remedy can you recommend to reduce obesity safely? I want to reduce about thirty pounds."

Answer: I rely on five-grain arbolone tablets as being the most effective and convenient treatment to reduce abnormal fat. Druggists supply this in sealed tubes with complete directions. After the first few days a pound a day is not too much reduction.

Mrs. M. D. D. asks: "Do you think it is possible for me to increase my weight from 97 pounds to about 125 pounds."

Answer: Yes, I believe that the regular use of a special tonic tablet will do this for you as it has for thousands of others. Ask your druggist for three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets in sealed package with full directions. Take them for several months to get the full benefit.

John C. L. writes: "I find my natural strength and nervous system failing me. I do not recuperate as of yore. My food and rest seem not to benefit as they should. Am weak, despondent and unable to perform the duties which were assumed earlier in life, while my ambition for work and pleasure is slowly going."

Answer: I think a powerful, harmless tonic and nervine medicine will rejuvenate and restore the functions of digestion, assimilation and elimination by invigorating the nervous system. Obtain three-grain cadomene tablets, packed in sealed tubes, and take as per directions accompanying.

SOME EUROPEAN FOOD PRICES UP 112.9 PER CENT

LONDON, March 14.—European food prices are higher than before the war, according to the English Board of Trade Gazette, by the following percentages:

England 47
Berlin 83.4
Vienna, 112.9.
Italy, 31.2

The Gazette based its estimate on food staples in the various countries. It dates the increase from July, 1914. The percentages of increase are carried up to February 1, 1916, in England's case and to January 1, 1916, in the cases of Berlin, Vienna and Italy.

Attention is called to the fact that in Berlin and Vienna many prices are artifically kept from going still higher only by government order, and that in such cases the articles purchased are to be had in nothing but limited quantities, and that some foods, like lard, beans, peas, and lentils apparently are practically unobtainable at any price.

If people were as wise as they think they are the unexpected would seldom occur.

MARQUETTE OPENS WEEK'S CAMPAIGN FOR ENDOWMENT

Attorney George A. Burns of Milwaukee Here to Engineer Effort to Add to University Funds

Attorney George A. Burns of Milwaukee arrived in the city yesterday to institute a week's campaign on behalf of Marquette university for the purpose of completing the endowment fund, a campaign for which was commenced in Milwaukee a few weeks ago. The campaign contemplated is a statewide one. Mr. Burns will have the co-operation of a local committee, whose personnel is not entirely determined, but John F. Doherty, A. H. Shubert and Prof. Robert Butler are among the number who will act on this committee.

"We want to convey to the citizens of La Crosse," said Mr. Burns, "a correct idea about the purpose of this endowment fund and we particularly desire to emphasize 'Marquette's policy,' if we may use the expression, a policy which is not generally understood. In the first place the money raised in this endowment campaign is to be devoted solely to the upbuilding, equipment and maintenance of the professional schools at Marquette. These departments are strictly non-sectarian, most of the deans of the several professional schools and about two-thirds of the student body, in those schools being non-Catholic."

Marquette university has the following departments: Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Engineering, Economics, Journalism, Conservatory of Music and School of Opera and Dramatic Art. The student enrollment at present numbers sixteen hundred and the faculty is composed of about 200 members.

Plainly Expressed.

A certain rector in a small English village who was disliked in the parish had a curate who was very popular, and who, on his leaving, was presented with a testimonial. This excited the envy and wrath of the rector and, meeting with an old lady one day, he said: "I am surprised, Mrs. Bloom, that you should have subscribed to this testimonial." "Why, sir," said the old lady, "if you'd been a-going I'd have subscribed double."

SWEDES PLAN TO MAKE SEA GOING TRAIN A REALITY

STOCKHOLM, March 14.—Having practically completed plans for a railroad car ferry service between Gothenburg, Sweden, and an English North sea port, presumably Immingham, the Swedish board of trade is considering establishing a similar line from Stockholm and Abo, Finland.

With the system in running order, a car, or even a train, might make the run from Vladivostok to Abo, cross by boat from Abo to Stockholm, go by rail from Stockholm to Gothenburg, travel again by ferry from Gothenburg to England and unload in the latter country for the first time. The proposition is to run 10,500 ton boats on the Anglo-Swedish line daily in each direction.

HOW MANY MILES

Are There In a Gallon of Gasoline?

That depends on the type of motor in your car.

When you buy a BUICK six cylinder valve-in-head motor car you not only get the last word in comfort, style, power and speed, but we guarantee that you get an Automobile which will give you the highest gasoline mileage.

It is an admitted fact that the valve in head motor does give you 15 per cent more power than any other type of gasoline motor, which means 15 per cent more mileage per gallon of gasoline.

This is not a theory but a fixed engineering principle resulting from the perfecting of the Buick valve-in-head motor.

Thousands of users of Buick valve-in-head six cylinder cars give evidence daily that they are getting 20 miles or more per gallon of gasoline consumed while touring with full passenger load, and many users report over 25 miles per gallon.

Remember—cost of operation is a part of the cost of your car.

The Proven Economy of the Buick Valve in-Head Car Should Make it Your Preference.

MEXICANS REPORTED ANGERED AMERICANS ENTERED THE TOWN

as reason why Americans should be withdrawn from Mexican soil. His message, said the ambassador, came from General Carranza.

General Carranza has arrived at Mexico City accompanied by part of his cabinet to remain a number of days, according to a state department dispatch this afternoon from Consul Rogers.

Funston Uninformed

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 14.—Army officers at General Funston's headquarters today anxiously awaited the first telegraphic flash that will bring word of the 150 American cavalrymen attacked by Mexican civilians at Parral.

No report has been received from General Pershing since dispatches from Mexican officials brought word of the affray. The latest dispatches indicated that the fighting was continuing, convincing officials here that a mob greatly outnumbering the cavalry patrol was attacking Americans.

Used Machine Gun

In the second outburst of fighting, "many" were reported to have been killed and the cavalry was reported to have turned a machine gun on the Mexican mob.

The American troopers, who may have been under command of Major Tompkins, evidently broke from the main column on the ride southward toward the mining town. Some fear is felt here that unorganized Mexican bandits may have cut off their retreat and have prevented news of the attack from reaching General Pershing. In that event the American force might suffer serious casualties in fighting its way out.

Report Apology

COLUMBUS, N. M., April 14.—The only news of the trouble at Parral coming to Columbus was of a brief exchange of shots between the Carranza garrison and the United States troops. An apology by the Mexican commander is reported to have followed. No casualties were mentioned.

A significant order was given to the troops on guard here last night to sleep in their clothes beside their rifles.

Mexico City Calm

MEXICO CITY, April 14.—Mild excitement was caused today by publication for the first time of news of the clash between American troops and Mexican civilians at Parral. There were no demonstrations, however.

News of the affair spread through the city late last night after General Pablo Gonzales had issued a manifesto, warning the public against any hostile demonstration against Americans.

CHIEF INDICATES HE BELIEVES U. S. SHOULD ACQUIESE

that I am not enthusiastic over mere party success?"

Forecast of the sacrifice he may anticipate by such a course was read in an earlier declaration in his speech.

"When I see the crust even so much as slightly broken over the heads of a population which has always been directed by a board of trustees I make up my mind that I will thrust not only my arm but my heart in the aperture and that only by crushing every ounce of power that I have shall any man ever close up that opening again."

Deprecates Intervention

The president is known to believe that intervention would undo his work of three years in seeking to allow Mexicans to save themselves. He is believed to feel now that failure to find a way to withdraw honorably form Carranza's country would mean intervention.

There was especial anxiety to clear up the actual losses to American soldiers, said to be one killed and several wounded, and to learn the specific manner in which the clash was brought on. Carranza officials have been quick to point out that the very fact of the troops entering Parral was a violation of the agreement that Mexican towns should be avoided by the men pursuing Villa.

Suggest Change of Base

Though Secretary Baker refused to verify it, it was learned that the war department has received an official suggestion to change its main supply base from Columbus, N. M., to Ojinaga. It was also indicated General Funston has asked for additional troops.

Secretary Baker made no comment on the subject of withdrawing troops but said no orders had been issued from the war department other than to give General Funston a free hand in controlling the situation resulting from the Parral incident.

It was Baker's understanding that there would be no objection to the passage of troops through towns on the line of march, though they had been ordered not to "occupy" any towns.

At the state department it was considered likely that United States Consul Rodgers would discuss the situation with Gen. Carranza at Mexico City today. The latter was reported today and Rodgers has been there several days.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 14.—While traders watched Mexican and international developments with some nervousness today prices on the stock exchange again receded at the opening. Losses of about a half point in the general list and a full point or more in many war stocks were marked up in the initial trading.

Industrial Alcohol was down more than two points; Steel lost ½ at 82½; New York Central was off ⅜; Crucibile and American Locomotive were off 1⅛ at 87 and 71¾ respectively.

Two hundred and sixty thousand shares were dumped in the market during the first half hour. Covering by shorts checked the declines which started with the opening and during the second half hour the market moved gradually upward. United States Steel which sold as low as 82 had advanced to 82¾ at 11 o'clock. Shortly after that hour weakness again developed.

Prices were about a point above the morning's low at noon and they stood at about the same level, with some fractional recessions at one o'clock. Sales were 61,000 shares in the first hour after noon. Mexican Petroleum sold below par.

Prices moved upward until they were near the high of the day at 2 o'clock. United States Steel was quoted at 83⅛, Crucible at 89⅜, American Smelting at 97⅛ and American Locomotive at 73¼c.

The market closed steady.

Top for hogs was $10.00; estimated receipts for tomorrow are 13,000. Cattle closed steady; top for cattle $10.00. Sheep were in demand and sold to a steady close; top for sheep, $9.25; lambs, $11.80.

Trade in corn was slight. A firm undertone and a rise in other grains influenced slight increases. May corn was up 1-2c at 74 5-8c; July up 3-8c at 76 1-8c.

Oats recovered quickly after opening down. May oats sold up 1-4c at 44 5-8c; July p 1-4c at 43 1-8c.

Provisions trading steadied, the market after opening showed a tendency to let prices soar.

DE FACTOS BEATEN SENTIMENT MENACES AMERICAN FIGHTERS

against the Americans in Parral was regarded as the most important phase to be cleared up in the awaited official advices from General Pershing.

Juarez Anti-American

The Juarez garrison is considered strongly anti-American.

When Carranza Consul Garcia was reminded of his recent claim that the inhabitants of Parral had been disarmed weeks ago, he replied that the citizens "hid out" guns and ammunition.

"It was the citizens, not the soldiers, who opposed the entry of the American troops into Parral and who fired on the United States soldiers," Garcia declared.

Other reports, however, stated that the officers of the Parral garrison could not control their men and that the soldiers took part in the fight.

The fact that the mayor of Parral is Jose De La Luz Herrera, is considered significant here. He is the father of General Luis Herrera, who, despite his cordial meeting with General Pershing at the front a few days ago, is still regarded as the leader of the anti-American element in the Carranza army.

Predicts Massacres

James Lord, prominent Sonora mining man, today predicted that news of Carranza's demand for withdrawal of the American troops would be spread to every Mexican hamlet and that massacres of white inhabitants as well as American soldiers might be expected.

Halt Drive

COLUMBUS, N. M., April 14.—The Carranza withdrawal request has halted the forward drive of the American expedition in Mexico. The smaller columns and detachments on Villa's trail are consolidating as rapidly as possible. Until definite action is taken on Carranza's request the lines of communication or supply will not be extended farther, it was learned here today.

Hunt for Villa Not Stopped

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 14.—The Villa hunt is still on. Though Major General Funston feared another such incident as the Parral outbreak might precipitate a crisis, he had received no official word of the developments. Until Villa has been killed or captured, or the war department orders the expedition's withdrawal, he said the bandit hunt will continue with the same vigor that carried American troops four hundred miles into interior Mexico.

The major general and members of his staff were inclined to regard the fighting at Parral as the result of an hysterical outbreak of Mexican citizens unfamiliar with their national events.

NOTE UNDERSTOOD TO SAY QUIBBLING WILL BE OFENSIVE

high administration official that President Wilson had fully determined the course he would pursue. This course was laid before the cabinet and met with its full approval.

To Go to Committees

The tentative draft of the note will be presented to members of the house and senate foreign relations committees before it is handed to Secretary Lansing to be shaped into a formal communication. It is possible these conferences may bring slight changes in the text. The affidavits obtained by the American embassies in London and Paris, which arrived aboard the liner St. Paul today were due to reach Washington this afternoon. Copies will be attached to the note as "exhibits" to support this government's case against submarine commanders.

Germany's apparent intention of "going through" with her contention that a German submarine did not sink the channel packet Sussex met with a cold reception in official circles today. United Press dispatches stating Germany was sending post haste the U boat commander's sketches of the vessel attacked at the same time and place and with the same net results as those recorded in the Sussex explosion, led to the opinion that such action was useless. Administration officials refuse to consider seriously Germany's contention in her brief on the Sussex. Even quiet amusement was expressed at what is termed the "naivete of Von Jagow."

Hold Note Weak

The president and his advisers are said to be convinced that the note, particularly insofar as it pertains to the Sussex, is so palpably weak that it served no purpose other than materially to strengthen the position of the United States. It is contended the only difference shown in the Sussex explosion and the mysterious "other boat" attacked lies in the sketch, made of the German victim by the submarine commander.

It was suggested by a high official that the U boat commander being pressed for time on his sketch while his vessel was submerged might have erred slightly.

LONDON, April 14.—The British steamer Ellaston, recently torpedoed, was unarmed, Lloyd's stated today.

SIZE OF MEALS ORDERED SMALLER IN KAISER'S LAND

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, April 14.—The imperial German government's order to all German hotel and restaurant keepers, that they must reduce the size of the meals they serve, both as to variety and quantity, will be effective throughout Germany beginning with breakfast tomorrow morning.

The bills of fare will be reduced to the smallest proportions on record and guests will not be permitted to eat more than one item from any single course—and not very much of that. The butter supply, for instance, now is restricted to one-eighth of a pound per person per week. Mighty little sugar is given. Other food supplies are held to corresponding proportions.

Germany is racing toward famine which has been foreseen since last summer by those who knew the truth about the summer harvest, according to Francis Gribble, the British novelist who has just returned to London after a year in the German internment camp at Ruhlben, near Berlin.

"There is no avoiding the conclusion," said Gribble today, "that the state of the German people soon will be much what the state of the Belgian people now would be but for American philanthropists.

"The date at which the catastrophe will occur depends upon a good many uncertain factors; but it cannot be long delayed.

"The 1915 harvest, what there was of it, was both sown and reaped while I was behind the barbed wires at Ruhleben. There was practically no rain from the end of March until the beginning of July.

"The crisis passed. Then came the lashing thunderstorms to complete the damage. Those of our custodians who were concerned with agriculture pulled long faces and used ugly language. There was no mistake about it—the German harvest of 1915 had failed."

The novelist quoted the Vorwarts, the outspoken German socialist newspaper, to show that the 1915 harvest failed not only on account of drought but because:

The ground was not manured, the monopolization of railway equipment by the military preventing this.

2. Horses and carts were scarce because of the army needs.

3. Most skilled agriculturalists were away at the seat of war and old men, women, children and prisoners couldn't do the work.

4. The manufacturers of agricultural implements have turned their energies to the manufacture of implements of war.

"Famine is inevitable whether peace comes soon or not. Prices will be high and the value of German money has sunk so low that 20 marks will buy only 5 marks' worth of goods; besides, Germany has no great quantities of goods to export and pay for food imports."

"PUT MONEY INTO SHIPS"

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Predicting a naval appropriation carrying over $200,000,000, minority members of the house naval affairs committee yesterday in a dissenting report on the Tillman bill for a government-owned armor plant, declared the $11,000,000 proposed for the plant should be used for ships and men.

"This money could be spent more wisely at this time, on the 'navy afloat' than on a 'navy ashore,'" said the representative.

SHOWS NO FAVORITISM

WASHINGTON, April 14.—German militarism and British navalism are equally foes to the peace of mankind and America, Senator Stone of Missouri said yesterday in a senate speech on preparedness.

If anything, he said, the domination of the seas by the navy of a single nation was a more dangerous menace than the militarism of any other nation. Stone favored a big enough navy for the United States.

SAYS INSPECTORS WERE SUPPORTED BY THE PACKERS

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Charging government livestock inspectors with having protected the interests of the packing industry in the famed campaign of 1914-15, Representative King of Illinois on Thursday bitterly assailed the department of agriculture's handling of the campaign.

"The farmer and stockmen were gagged and shackled by the packing interests," King said, "Robin Rood and Captain Kidd were good in their lines but their victims usually knew when the job was done and that they had been robbed. Their methods could not be compared with the 'quarantine alley' methods employed at the Chicago Stock yards."

King charged agricultural officials, state department, and bureau of animal industry officials are members of the United States Livestock Sanitary association which, he charges, is supported by the packers. Among the members, he said, are Dr. O. E. Dyson, Illinois state veterinarian, Dr. J. Gibson, Iowa state veterinarian, and Dr. S. H. Ward, Wisconsin state veterinarian.

NOTHING WRINKLES FADES OR SHRINKS

Women save $5 in an hour by dry cleaning everything with gasoline.

Dry cleaning at home is all the rage here, says a well-known downtown druggist. Any woman can do five dollars' worth of dry cleaning at home at very little cost by dissolving two ounces of solvite in two gallons of gasoline; then immerse the articles to be cleaned; rub a little and in a few moments the gasoline evaporates and the articles cleaned look as bright and fresh as new.

Dry clean your own silk waists, dresses, ribbons, belts, kid gloves, satin shoes, evening slippers, fine laces, net work, woolens, dresses, children's coats, furs, veils, neckties, shawls, gentlemen's garments, fancy vests, lace curtains, rugs, in fact, everything that would be ruined by washing with soap and water. Nothing will fade, shrink or wrinkle, making pressing unnecessary.

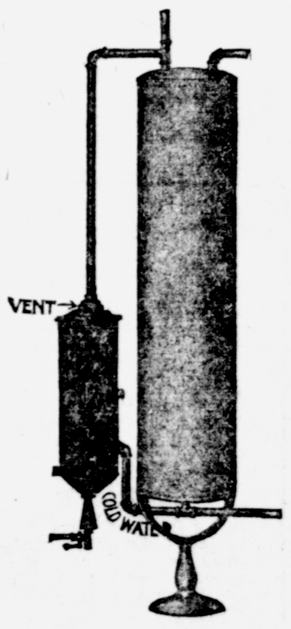

Dry cleaning at home is inexpensive and effects a tremendous saving in the household and is really just as easy as laundering. Any druggist will sell two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap and your grocer or a garage will supply the gasoline. Then a wash boiler or dishpan completes the outfit. As gasoline is very inflammable, be sure to do your dry cleaning out of doors, or in a room away from fire or flame, with the windows left open.

When You Want a Bath —and there's not a drop of hot water in the house

It's inconvenient, to say the least.

And you can't heat enough water for a bath over a stove in a tea-kettle.

In these uncertain days, when the furnace fire is out and you aren't running the kitchen range all the time, the chances for getting hot water when you want it are mighty slim.

The Answer Is— The HUMPHREY Gas Water Heater

It's quick, convenient and economical. It insures hot water at any time, in any quantity, any hour of the day or night.

Hot water is not a luxury. It is false economy to try to get along without the means of having all the hot water you want, all the time.

Old-fashioned methods have got to go. The tea-kettle and the kitchen range, together with all their troubles, have given place to GAS.

We've convinced your neighbor; now we want to convince you.

YOUNG VILLA BANDIT WOULD BE AMERICAN

DEMING, N. M., April 14.—Little Jesus Paez is at the hospital here with his left leg amputated at the hip. Today it was announced that he will have a new leg, the gift of Americans at Deming.

When Villa raided Columbus, Jesus was with his bandit father. He was told to hold his father's horse. The 12-year-old did so until an American bullet shattered his leg. As he dropped the Villa bandit band turned and fled.

Jesus said today: "I thought Americans killed everybody they captured and I was afraid. I crawled away and hid in the brush. After a while a big soldier came and got me. He was good to me. They had to cut off my leg, but it didn't hurt much. Now I want to stay here and be a real American." Deming folk will give the boy a chance.

PRINCE OF WALES REFERRED MINER'S COTTAGE TO MANSION

LONDON, April 14.—How the youthful, democratic Prince of Wales prefers an humble workman's cottage to a mansion in northern France was told here today by a Methodist chaplain, just returned from the front.

"At a certain village," said the chaplain, "is a line of cottages and many times the prince has slept on the floor of one of these humble homes. On the other side of the road is a beautiful old mansion, but the prince preferred to live with the poor coal miner.

"I also saw the prince 'doing his bit' at the front. He was often in danger and always went where his boys went."

GOVERNMENT TAKES HAND IN MOVING MANITOBA CROPS

WINNIPEG, Man., April 14.—Investigation of the causes of Manitoba's unprecedented grain congestion was begun by the provincial grain commission, in special session here today. Hundreds of thousands of bushels of the finest wheat on the continent are lying in the open, subject to the elements, because of a scarcity of cars to move them. The government, weary of waiting will take charge of the situation and move the crop.

WESTERNERS PLAN TO FORM RIVAL TO THE A. B. C.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 14.—Des Moines is to be the central point in which the fight to be made on the American Bowling congress, a fight which may lead to the elimination of the congress as a factor in the bowling game and at least will put into the national bowling field an organization which will rival or even eclipse the older organization. The fight, is being made by the Middle West Bowling Asociation led by President George Strotz of Des Moines and Secretary George C. Lowe of Kansas City. A meeting of the Middle West association has been called for the second Sunday in May. It will be held either in Des Moines or St. Louis.

Strotz and Lowe, both directors of the A. B. C., have resigned. They charge "steam roller" methods at the annual meeting in Toledo which they declare is injurious to bowling as a national sport and totally ignored the expressed desires of members of the association of the middle west.

JOHN BULL SAYS INDIA IS LOYAL TO THE EMPIRE

For months, the world has been flooded with unauthenticated reports that India, England's greatest colonial dependancy, is on the verge of complete revolution. It has heard from dozens of sources that India will emerge from a bloody struggle during the European war, to be the world's largest republic.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

Try Oil of Korein to Keep Weight Down, or to Reduce Superfluous Fat

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to City Book and Drug store, 500 Main street, Columbian Pharmacy, 123 South Fourth street, and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

RIVER BUILDING PLAN APPROVED BY COMMITTEES

Without a dissenting vote, tentative plans for the municipal utility building at the levee at Pearl street received the approval last night of the committees on finance, grounds and buildings and streets and alleys of the common council, in joint session.

Plans presented by City Engineer Bradish call for a one-story structure, with inside measurements of thirty feet wide, forty-eight feet long and twelve feet high, with a platform on three sides eight feet wide, not to cost more than $2,500. A resolution was adopted that the board of public works advertise for bids for the construction of the building.

Besides a storeroom, the tentative plans call for a waiting room with office, and women's and men's retiring rooms. The roof will extend two feet over the outside platforms.

A resolution, calling for construction of the building from the general fund of the city of any available fund, was adopted for presentation to the council meeting tonight.

Hold Up West Avenue Booth

Plans of the park commission for the building of a shelter room at the West avenue playgrounds, to serve also as a voting booth and a social center building, were held over, as were plans presented by the city engineer for alteration of the State street entrance of the city hall with a view to improving the steps, which, members of the council point out, are worn, and dangerous in wet weather.

High water may result in improvement of the Isle La Plume, the committee on grounds and buildings entering a resolution for the rip-rapping of the north end of the island. The resolution was held over.

City to Save Paper

Purchase of a paper press for baling and sale of waste paper from the city hall, was ordered, the cost of the press not to exceed $20.

Frown on Unions

Union labor will not be recognized if the tenor of the joint meeting last night of the committees on finance, grounds and buildings and streets and alleys is reflected at tonight's meeting of the common council.

These matters were reported unfavorably:

Proposal of Teamsters' local No. 276, that an average wage of $100 per month be fixed for garbage collectors.

Proposal by the same union that the council act favorably on the proposition to increase the pay of city teamsters from fifty to sixty cents per hour, which proposition was referred from the last meeting of the council, the board of public works in the interim to pay the scale demanded by the teamsters.

City Attorney Higbee, Mayor Bentley declared, in an opinion rendered concerning the fixing of wage scales for city employes, ruled that the common council cannot interfere with the board of public works, or the health commission in the matter of wages paid employes, that the hiring body shall pay its own price.

Garbage for Hog Farm

A proposition submitted by J. P. West of Madison for the receipt of garbage from city collectors, the city to be paid $100 yearly for a period of five years, was reported upon favorably, the city attorney and health department to draw up a contract for presentation to the council. West, it is understood, is to operate a hog farm on French Island.

NEW DAIRY LUNCH ALL SET FOR THE OPENING TUESDAY

Glistening in its fresh regalia of white and nickel, the New Dairy Lunch, successor to Henry & Frank's famous short-order house, is preparing to receive callers today. Tomorrow it will be open for inspection. Monday it will be closed while the "eats" are put in shape, and Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock its white-enameled cash register will speak its first piece.

The New Dairy Lunch is impressive in its effect of cleanliness. Except the brown of table-legs and ice-box, it is all white and nickel. The tables are topped with marble, and a long marble counter with glass housing runs down all one side. The walls are gleaming white. So is the ceiling. Even the housings of the big ventilator fans are enameled. The marble used in the lunch-room is Alaskan stone—the first in La Crosse, and this city is said to be the farthest east that any has been used.

The arrangement of the cooking apparatus is the fruit of much thought expended by Henry Rooney, the proprietor, and Ori J. Sorensen, contractor. It is a model of compactness and efficiency. And everywhere there are ventilators with big suction fans to draw off all odors.

Ventilation is further taken care of by a big fresh air duct that opens in the very front of the establishment, while a big fan at the rear keeps up a constant circulation. The system has been so arranged that in warm weather the incoming fresh air must pass through a spray of tiny jets of cold water, to cool and wash it.

Small Boy With Matches Imperils Prize Hen Coop

A small boy playing with matches nearly caused the end of a score of prize chickens owned by William Lawrence, 1413 South Ninth street, at 8:20 o'clock last night. Mr. Lawrence saw the blaze in his chicken coop in time to save part of the structure and liberate his hens. The fire department responded to an alarm, but by the time the apparatus arrived Mr. Lawrence had formed a bucket brigade and the fire was out.

NO RECORD FOUND OF WOODS CHOICE

With the arrival of the time at which regular vacancies are to be filled in the city commissions, it developed today that there is no record of the appointment of Walter S. Woods to the health commission. Diligent search of all the commission's records in the city hall today, and of the council minutes, failed to uncover the re-appointment of Mr. Woods, whose term will expire next year, if recollection of his fellow-members of the board is correct. It appears probable today, therefore, that two appointments will be made by the mayor to the health commission—one for the post now filled by Dr. Edward A. Evans, whose term regularly expires this year, and probably a short-term appointment for Mr. Woods, in order to straighten out the city record.

While Mayor Bentley refused to discuss the subject today, it was believed that the mayor would re-appoint both Dr. Evans and Mr. Woods. Regarding the tangle over Mr. Woods' appointment, the mayor would make no further comment than to say that he would "straighten matters out."

Four other appointments are due to be made at the council meeting this evening. A fire and police commissioner is to be chosen to succeed L. C. Colman, whose term expires May 1. A park commissioner is to be chosen to succeed J. M. Hixon, who is holding over since the expiration of his term on April 12, and two weed commissioners will be appointed.

"CLEAN-UP WEEK" IS PLANNED BY CITY AND CLUBS

Clubwomen of La Crosse today announced that the municipal housecleaning is to be finished by the end of the first week in May. Working with the city health department, members of the La Crosse Woman's club and the Twentieth Century club are planning an active campaign for removal of old shoes, dead brush and such unsightly accumulations from vacant lots—or occupied lots either—to culminate in "Clean-Up Week"—the first in May.

However, the clubwomen are not particular that all the cleaning up be saved for that particular week. It is even suggested that the clean-up start right now, so that La Crosse can enter "Clean-Up Week" all spick-and-span. As a suggestion, the clubwomen today urged that householders in need of extra assistance to rake up lawns, dig garden and so forth, get into touch with the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Scouts or the employment bureaus of the high and normal schools.

Boy scouts will play a large part in the clean-up plans, as in former years. During the big week they will be sent out sleuthing for places where the rake and bonfire could be used to advantage, and then turned loose to use them with the permission of the property owner.

Club committees in charge of the plans for Clean-Up Week are as follows:

From the Twentieth Century club—Mrs. A. W. Langenbach, chairman; Mrs. W. E. Barber, Mrs. F. G. Cowles, Mrs. Frank Sisson and Mrs. A. M. Brayton.

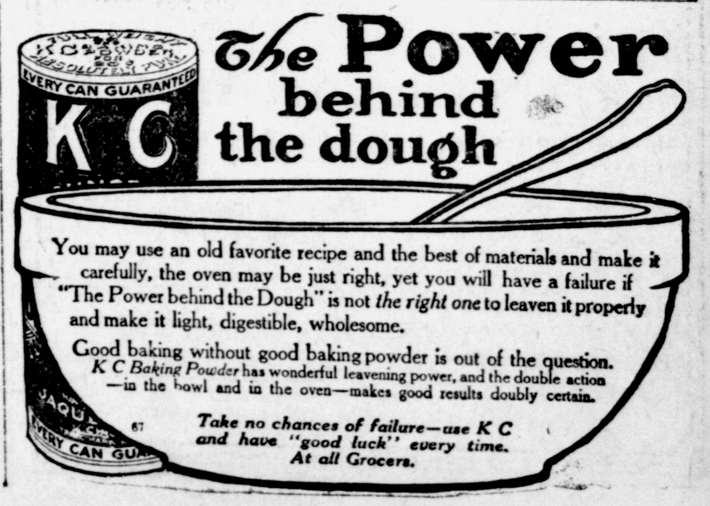

From the La Crosse Woman's club—Mrs. H. L. Partridge, Mrs. M. J. Kent.

M'GREGOR MAN IS HURT IN EXPLOSION AT WISCONSIN "U"

Professor Thomas Dahm Injured While Doing Research Work; Eyes May Be Saved

M'GREGOR, Ia., April 14.—(Special.)—The condition of Professor Thomas Dahm, who was seriously hurt in an explosion while engaged in research work in the chemical laboratory at the University of Wisconsin Saturday afternoon is improved and it is hoped that the sight of both eyes may be saved. His father, J. N., of McGregor, has been at his son's bedside in Madison since Sunday, returning home last night. He says the surgeons think the left eye will be unimpaired and there is hope for partial vision in the right eye. The young man has been assistant professor in the physical science department of the University of Wisconsin since taking his doctor's degree there two years ago. It was feared at first that he would be blind as the result of Saturday's accident.

Road Boosters Meet

L. Bean, secretary of the McGregor National Park association, and W. F. Bickel of Cedar Rapids represented McGregor at the meeting of the Geranium Trail association at Waterloo Saturday. It was decided at the meeting that a large "G" with geranium blossoms in the center will be the official marker of the new road from Kansas City to McGregor. The general line from Des Moines will be through Altoona, Marshalltown, Grundy Center, Waterloo, Oelwein, Strawberry Point, Elkader to McGregor. Five thousand of the geranium emblems will be printed on enameled signs and posted all along the route.

Dogs Burn in Fire

A gasoline explosion started a fire Monday which for a time threatened to spread over McGregor Heights and endanger the summer cottages on its summit. The fire started in the home of C. E. Mann at the foot of the Heights, a gasoline stove exploding. The house and its entire contents burned and the flames spread to the dead leaves on the hillside. A force of fire fighters worked for some time before the spread of the flames was checked and the fire stamped out. The house and furniture were a total loss as the owner had no insurance. Two pet dogs which were in the house burned.

Local and Personal

Archbishop J. J. Keane of Dubuque administered confirmation at St. Mary's church Monday. Following high mass a class of fifty-one was confirmed. The archbishop gave an eloquent talk. He was assisted in the confirmation ceremony by Rev. Thomas Dowling.

Paving crews of about fifty in number are now at work on the paving on Main street. The two upper blocks have been closed to traffic.

The Mississippi has ceased to rise but it is not anticipated that the stage will begin to get much lower before Saturday. The parties who own property on the river bank are busy protecting it. The small freight house of the steamboat companies has been toppled over on its side and had to be tied to prevent its washing away. The cement building of the McGregor Fish market has about two feet of water in it and is cut off from land by several roads of river. All of the flat lands in the lower part of town are covered with water and it has entered a number of cellars. The summer cottages on Bergman's islands will escape without much damage unless the water rises higher.

Work began yesterday on the new moving picture playhouse for H. Simpson. C. M. Brooks has the contract.

The large frame building beside the railroad track which has been used by the Northern Iowa Butter and Egg company as a poultry house has been torn down and part of the material in it will be used in the construction of the new building adjoining the creamery.

J. Grady one of the oldest and best known residents of North McGregor, is quite seriously ill at the hospital.

HAIRPINS IN PANCAKES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 14.—Miles Lund, 53, Granite City, who, according to the police, deserted his bride of six months last February, was turned over to the Granite City police here yesterday charged with wife abandonment. Here are his reasons for leaving her:

"I found hair pins in my pancakes. She threw my old shoes in my face. I could no more live with her than I could live in the hot place."

AUSTRIAN ROYALTY PRAYS FOR QUICK ENDING OF WAR

ZURICH, April 14.—Sixteen members of the Austrian imperial family, including the Princess Zita, the Archduchess Maria Theresa and Maria Valeria, the latter's two daughters, and the Archduke Leopold Salvator, his consort and seven sons, took part in a pilgrimage to the sanctuary of St. Mary's at Zell, where they prayed for a quick ending of the war. One of the Austrian cardinals and 500 other persons participated in the ceremonies.

QUICKLY STOPS HEAD COLDS AND SNUFFLES

Catarrhal Germs Cause of Most Colds. New Germicidal Air Treatment Best Remedy For These Common Ailments.

Reliable authorities say that upwards of 90 per cent of the so-called colds in the head and throat are in reality dangerous indications of the presence of acute catarrh. When you hear a person sneeze or cough its almost certain they are throwing catarrh germs into the air for some other person to breathe and its just as certain that the person breathing these germs will soon have catarrh or a catarrhal cold. The time to make these germs harmless and drive out your catarrhal cold is the very instant you feel a desire to sneeze or cough, or start to snuffle and wipe your nose every few minutes.

The quickest and surest way to stop a head cold and drive catarrh germs out of your system is to pour a few drops of the oil of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) into one of the Hyomei inhaling devices which comes with each large package and place the inhaler between your lips and breathe the germicidal but pleasant smelling air into your nose, throat and lungs. This air utterly destroys all catarrh germ life, quickly opens the closed air passages, makes breathing easy, clears your stuffed up head, cleans out your throat and ends your snuffling and nose blowing. There certainly is no quicker or more satisfactory way of breaking up a cold, even after it is well started, and a few weeks' use will do away with all danger of chronic catarrh. Sold by reputable druggists everywhere who usually agree to return the full purchase price to any who use it and are not satisfied. In buying Hyomei for the first time be very sure to get the large size which contains the inhaler as this is very essential for best results.

SPOTLIGHTS

"TWIN BEDS"

Selwyn and company, already renowned from one end of the country to the other as sponsors of the biggest hits of the past three seasons—"Within the Law", "Under Cover," "Under Fire", "Rolling Stones," "The Show Shop" and "The Lie," will further entrench themselves in local favor by their presentation at the La Crosse theater, Saturday, April 15, matinee and night of "Twin Beds,' the laugh festival by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo which has just concluded, at the Harris theater in New York, a run of fifty-two weeks on Broadway.

"Twin Beds" is a wholesome, rapidly moving exposition of the difficulties that are encountered by dwellers in fashionable large apartment houses, who find the enforced neighborliness of these places not at all to their liking, and who, in their futile efforts to escape it, involve themselves in innumerable complications.

The admirable cast includes. Juliette Day, J. Morrill Morrison, Marian Lord, P. Paul Porcasi, Editha Maxham, William Weston, Eleanor Wilton and others.

Sick People Sometimes Die From Lack of a Good Stimulant

Especially is this true in grip and pneumonia, for they are infectious diseases which attack weak and strong alike. Serious complications are liable to develop in the course of the disease, as grip settles in the weakest part of the system, sometimes the kidneys, the brain, the stomach or the heart, resulting often in heart failure, but the most dreaded of all, pneumonia, which is particularly fatal when arising from grip. As one able medical writer says:

"In all severe types of pneumonia there are two sources of danger—heart insufficiency, and high temperature. A large portion of deaths from pneumonia directly result from heart failure.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

judiciously used is one of the most efficient means of preventing or overcoming it."

The reason it is a remarkable remedy in the treatment and relief of grip, coughs, colds, influenza, bronchitis, catarrh, pneumonia, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey aids in keeping the digestive functions in healthy condition so that the body gets the necessary health and strength from food eaten—enabling it to throw off disease germs. For more than 56 years it has brought the blessings of health to overworked men, delicate women and the sickly, who find in Duffy's the strength-giving properties that are so necessary to them.

Health Depends on Kidneys

Whole System Suffers If They Are Deranged

Health is an absolute impossibility when the kidneys are out of order. The explanation is simple. Life cannot be lived without waste. The blood sweeps through arteries and veins, supplying vitality to every organ and part, gathers up the waste matter and carries it to the kidneys. The kidneys are a filter and it is their office to strain from the blood all the poisonous deposits and to pass them on to the bladder for expulsion. When any part of the kidneys is inflamed, the purifying is less perfectly done. The kidneys and veins are clogged with poisonous matter. If you are troubled with pains in the back, dizziness, aching joints, nausea, or other symptoms of kidney disease, you should lose no time in testing Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. It is considered to be an excellent remedy in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys liver and blood. It assists nature in repairing the tissues so that in time the organs, if not too far gone, will be restored to healthy activity. It is made from medicinal herbs and other healthful ingredients. A standard remedy for 40 years. At all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. A free sample if you write, Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 422, Rochester, N. Y.

THEY SAID NOT A WORD TO THIS

MADISON, Wis., April 14—Professor Benjamin Snow of the university is an international authority on matters pertaining to physics. When he made the following statement to a class on Tuesday, therefore, not a student blinked.

"Sound travels 400 yards per second," said Professor Snow. "But scandal travels twice as fast. Flattery also travels much faster than sound, but poor old truth lags way behind. The slowest sound to reach its destination is the one emanating from a student's alarm clock."

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

HARRY LAUDER

Harry Lauder, when he appears at the La Crosse theater Tuesday night, April 18, will bring with him not only the pride of having been one of the principal artists to sing before King George and Queen Mary at the "Command Performance" at the Palace theater, London, two years ago, but also the feeling that he did something to help his particular friends. His particular friends are donkeys and Shetland ponies. Lauder was a "pit boy" in a coal mine during his youth, and he became very fond of the pony that was in his charge. Since he became famous he has lost none of his interest in the animals. So, when "donkey day" was celebrated in Blackpool, England, Lauder not only lent his presence, but his energies to making the day mean something more than a passing event.

In after years a man rejoices because of the failure of youthful ambitions.

He was one of the most active and enthusiastic boosters for the coming encampment.

To People Who Are Under Normal Weight

Good Advice For Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women Who Want to Put on Flesh

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to lifelong skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequalled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus provided. Hoeschler Bros., and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has from reports given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, its use is not recommended to nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

GILBERT NAMED TO PUSH CASE FOR THE NORMAL

Former State Attorney General Chosen by Regents to Fight for La Crosse Appropriation

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—(Special.)—Announcement is made here today of the appointment of former Attorney General Frank L. Gilbert of Madison who will appear as special attorney before the supreme court in defending the state board of normal regents in the La Crosse normal appropriation matter. The question has arisen as to whether a part of the $80,000 appropriation for the new La Crosse normal school building has been lost. The suit is a friendly one. Attorney General Owen will appear for Secretary of State John S. Donald, who will refuse to audit some of the bills until the matter has been determined in the court.

John E. Sanborn has been appointed by Gov. Philipp to appear in the Oshkosh normal school matter. The question has arisen as to whether the last legislature repealed an appropriation of $100,000 for building work at the Oshkosh normal school. The attorney general's office will defend the acts of Secretary of State John S. Donald, until the supreme court has legally passed upon the matter.

It is not known when these cases will be brought before the court. The litigation will come in each case in the form of an application to the state supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of state to audit the bills. This will place the construction of the appropriation measures before the supreme court.

Reducing The High Cost Of Living

IV—Meat Left-overs and How to Serve Them

(Written for The TRIBUNE by Nellie Maxwell, Department of Farmers' Institutes of the University of Wisconsin.)

There are several requisites for a successful left-over of meat—all bone and gristle and fat should be removed; it should be more highly seasoned as it has lost its first flavor in cooking; it must appeal to the eye in appearance, not recalling its former appearance, and it should not require too much labor in preparation or too many ingredients to make it palatable. Otherwise the effort of saving is lost.

Meat from the soup stock has most of its food value left, barring the flavor of the extractives, by adding gravy and seasonings one may have a very tasty and palatable croquette. Never repeat the same dish of left-overs, until the family has forgotten the combinations. We are prone to get very tired of the same dishes, which if rearranged in other ways, with other seasonings would be most acceptable.

Ragouts, pot pies, stews, fricassees are all stews with a variety of seasonings thus changing the character of the dish. Hash, minced meat, croquettes, loaves, escalloped meat, creamed meats and souffles are all ways of treating ground or chopped meat. Meat pies and meat turnovers use small bits of meat with gravy.

One of the best methods of reducing the meat bill is to fix on a certain sum or amount of meat to be used, then study the left-over problem, bearing in mind the requirements for a successful dish of left-overs.

Dumplings for Ragouts—Chop exceedingly fine half a pound of veal or beefsteak. Beat a fourth of a cup of butter to a cream and gradually add the meat, then the yolks of two eggs well beaten, half a cupful of soft bread crumbs, a grating of nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of salt and the whites of the eggs beaten dry. Mix well to a soft batter. Shape in a tablespoon and cook five minutes.

Cottage Pie—Cover the bottom of a small greased baking dish with hot mashed potato, and a thick layer of roast beef, chopped or cut in small pieces, seasoned well with salt, pepper and onion juice and moistened with some of the gravy; cover with a thin layer of mashed potato and bake in a hot oven long enough to heat through.

Roast Beef-Mexican Sauce—There is no more delicious dish than this if it is carefully prepared. When the vegetables are in season, they may all be grown in one's own garden. Cook five minutes one onion finely chopped in two tablespoonfuls of butter. Add one red and one green pepper, and one clove of garlic, finely chopped, with two tomatoes cut in pieces. Cook fifteen minutes, then add one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Lay in the slices of cold roast beef and when hot serve with the sauce.

Barbecued Lamb—Cut cold roast lamb in slices and reheat in a sauce made by wetting two tablespoonfuls of butter, adding three-fourths of a tablespoonful of vinegar, one-fourth of a cup of currant jelly, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of prepared mustard and salt and cayenne to taste.

A veal pie is a most appetizing dish. Take bits of veal, with salt pork (well cooked in small cubes) add cream and seasonings and cover with a crust; bake as usual.

Scalloped Chicken—Butter a baking dish and arrange alternate layers of cold sliced chicken and boiled macaroni or rice. Pour over a rich sauce made of milk, cream, or chicken stock, cover with buttered crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown. Serve hot. Tomato sauce may be added in place of the white sauce if so desired.

Luncheon Chicken—Cook for three minutes a slice of carrot and a slice of onion cut in small pieces in two tablespoonfuls of butter. Add very gradually two tablespoonfuls of flavor and a cup of chicken stock. Strain and add one and a half cupfuls of cooked chicken cut in dice and season with salt and pepper. Turn on a buttered platter, cover with buttered crumbs. Make several nests in the chicken mixture and slip in an egg, coverf each with crumbs and put into a moderate oven until the whites of the eggs are firm.

The Freneh Twins of a Hundred Trunks

The Misses Alice and Madeline Liebert, twin daughters of the new French consul general to the United States, have lost some of their hundred trunks, and hotels of New York are being scoured for them. They came with that number, but no plain American hotel porter believed it possible for so many trunks to belong to two young women and got them mixed. The twins have interested New York by taking their Chinese maid about with them.

American Girl to be Dentist to Her Majesty

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 14.—A string of incidents which had their beginning in a fog six years ago when a little American girl accidentally bumped into the king and queen of Norway, probably will culminate with the admission of that girl as an attendant to the imperial family. Miss Dagny I. Just, a junior in the dental school at the University of Minnesota, has been asked to come to Norway as assistant to Dr. Gunda Frydenlund, dentist to Queen Maud. Six years ago she encountered their majesties by brushing against them in a fog. The happy Minneapolis girl plans to make the trip to Norway when she has received her degree in dentistry.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—While her college friends are vacationing at the seashore or at cozy mountain retreats, Miss Anita Allen, a pretty junior at Stanford university will hunt big game in the Arctic. The four men arrested Wednesday have furnished bail. Four more taken late last night are behind bars, pending federal arraignment today. They are Carl Schmidt, chief engineer of the Frederich Der Grosse, George Praedel, Wilhelm Paradis and Friedrich Garbode, all fourth engineers of the Friedrich Der Grosse. All were born in Germany.

Evidence in the entire plot will be presented to the federal grand jury Monday.

THEY PAY DEARLY TO KILL AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, April 14.—War department official records showed today 120 Mexicans have been slain in operations starting with the Columbus raid and exclusive of Wednesday's Parral battle, while seven United States soldiers were killed at Columbus and one at Parral. This is a ratio of exactly 15 to 1, while casualties in the Parral clash probably will raise the ratio.

HUNDRED YARDS OF TRACK TAKEN OUT BY FLOOD WATERS

Burlington Right of Way Near Ferryville Damaged in Two Places and Trains Are Held Up

More than three hundred feet of track of the Burlington road was washed out late last night near Ferryville, the damage being the most severe inflicted by the high water in the vicinity of La Crosse. Traffic was held up for several hours.

Two spots of track were washed away, one hundred feet in one place and two hundred and twenty feet in another. Close watch has been kept of the track threatened by the flood since the rise began more than two weeks ago. The track was on made ground, dredged from the river last summer and a year ago, and although riprapped, was not solid enough to withstand the ravages of the river.

Work trains, held near the scene, had repaired the tracks early today so that trains were running at 9:30. Train No. 47, due here at 3 a. m., No. 57, due at 4:30, No. 49(due at 6:40, and No. 53, due at 8:45, were held up at Prairie du Chien, but crossed the bridge early this forenoon. Permanent repair of the washout cannot be made before the water subsides.

EAST APPROACH OF BLACK RIVER BRIDGE MENACED BY FLOOD

The mill race like flow of water through the Black river bridge yesterday threatened for a time to take out the east approach, the water eating through the foundations resulting in a cave-in of several cubic yards on volume. City workmen worked throughout the day strengthening the approach, which has been the object of close watch since the present high mark of the river was reached. A temporary plank approach supplementing the old one was built.

WOULD GO TO BED WITH CHICKENS IF ALIVE TODAY

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, March 1.—If William Shakespeare lived today he would not spend long night hours penning literature for future generations in his home on Stratford's main thoroughfare.

Lights are prohibited in Stratford. The mayor's council has decided that until the war is over Stratforders shall go to bed with the chickens or spend their evenings in darkness. The recent Zeppelin raid on the Midlands is responsible for the order.

In peace time tourists from all parts of the world came here to see where and how Shakespeare lived. The town council is simply taking precautions in order that there will be something left for tourists to see after the war.

DR. WILE UPHELD BY SUPERINTENDENT

PONTIAC, Mich., April 14.—Despite the wave of protest that followed the exposure of human vivisection methods of Dr. U. J. Wile, of the University of Michigan, upon helpless lunatics, inmates of the Pontiac State hospital here, similar operations will be permitted in the future if considered necessary by the hospital authorities, declared Dr. Edmund A. Christian, superintendent, who declared that Dr. Wile's experiments were of the utmost scientific value and that the patients upon whom he operated were unharmed.

Using an ordinary dental drill, Dr. Wile, who is professor of dermatology and psychology at Ann Arbor, bored holes in the brains of six hopelessly insane persons, extracted a quantity of living brain matter, inoculated a rabbit with it, and on the results of his discovery wrote an article for the Journal of Experimental Medicine, claiming discovery of the cause of paresis.

RACE OF DWARFS MAY BE LEFT AS RESULT OF WAR

be a soldier; go home and be a father."

So those who assert that war injures the race seem to have the best of it if the question is viewed from a biological stand point. The militarist philosophers claim that the proportion destroyed is not really large enough to have a great effect, and that the damage is in part compensated by an increased birth rate after the war. They cannot, however, disprove the terrible loss of race-strength both by death and injury in a war like the present one.

Urge Spiritual Benefits

They assert, however, that the greatest benefits of war are spiritual. During the war, they say the heroism and unselfishness of a people are stimulated. Persons who have devoted all their lives to gathering riches often freely give these to the cause. The men of the race learn how to face death, the women how to face sacrifice. In peace, heroism is possible only for a few—such as explorers and adventurers. In war, heroism becomes the common experience of the race. Nations often produce their greatest men after wars. The Germans, Goethe, Schiller and Kant came after the desolating Thirty Years war. Poland produced a wonderful crop of geniuses while she was being overrun by the armies of Europe and torn to pieces by them. The great American psychologist, William James, believed in this stimulating effect of war, and in his volume, "The Will to Believe", he gives an impressive list of nations and peoples that have done great things in the face of threatened or partial destruction. It is a striking fact that religious sects which have been persecuted and hounded about the earth nearly always are people of unusual qualities. The Huguenots, the Puritans and the Waldenses, are well known examples.

Reward Worth Price?

This quickening of the spiritual life of a nation by war may be traced to some extent throughout history. In a short war, assert the militarists, a nation works off the fat and sloth accumulated by years of undisturbed industry; its spiritual qualities are awakened; and its nationalism intensified. The pacificists reply to this is that war has brutalizing as well as stimplating effects, and that above all, its rewards cannot possibly be worth the terrific price being paid in the present struggle.

There are many kinds of loss to the nations engaged besides those actually killed on the field of battle. The seriousness of this latter is probably exaggerated in the mind of the average American, as it has been in the utterances of a host of amateur and professional pacificists. Thus the losses of Germany have been placed as high as 3,000,000. This is an extreme estimate in the first place. In the second place it includes wounded and prisoners. The wounded include many who are only slightly injured, and a comparatively small proportion who are injured for life. Many of the prisoners, of course, are not injured at all. Some military experts say that the actual loss of life to Germany is so far less than a million men. This is probably not more than 6 or 7 per cent of the men of the nation. If more than 90 per cent remain to perpetuate the race, it cannot suffer so immensely from this cause alone.

Unfit Propogate

But it must be taken into account that the race is meantime being propagated largely by the adolescent, the aged, and the unfit who were left behind. These are enjoying the opportunities of marriage and family life while the strongest men are in the trenches. Then, too, many who come back from the war will be victims of what the scientists call traumatic neurosis—that is, the effect on the nervous system of the terrific shock of the modern machinery of battle. Several scientists of high standing have expressed the belief that this nervous shock will be apparent in many generations.

These are of course unknown factors of the situation, and it remains to be seen what effect they will have on the future of the European race.

Another difficult question to be faced after the war by all of the combatant nations will be a superfluity of women. Always a little more numerous than the men, they will soon be many millions in excess. One Oriental philosopher has suggested legalized polygamy as the solution of this difficulty. This of course is out of the question in Christian nations; but some scientists admit that it might be better than the unlegalized polygamy which is sure in some degree to result. Thus it is believed by some observers that a large number of women unprotected by marriage will be one of Europe's great problems.

Only Best to Marry?

Others, however, see a bright side to the picture. Arnold Bennett, the English novelist, believes that because of the keen competition for men, only the very finest women will achieve marriage. Thus the best of the race will be perpetuated, and the bad effect of a shortage of fit men will be somewhat ameliorated by a superfluity of fit women.

One gain for women already very noticeable is that they are taking a part in many occupations hitherto monopolized by men. The opportunity to work, which is the fundamental need of modern woman, and the lack of which is the basis of all her restlessness, has undoubtedly been broadened by war.

A canvass of all of the opinions of the learned leaves the conviction that the war will leave the Europeans a people in many senses impaired, and will doubtless send to America a share of maimed and unfit, but also that it undoubtedly has spiritual and moral values; and that these too, will—in fact, already have been—felt across the Atlantic.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

GETTING READY TO SHIP 500,000 CANS OF IRISH STEW EACH WEEK TO SOLDIERS

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., April 14.—This town's canning factory, beginning today is being remodeled to turn out 26,000,000 quarts of good old Irish stew, at the rate of half a million cans a week, for the Canadian soldiers on the European fronts. In a few days hundreds of giant kettles with big fires under them will begin to sing their bubbling, boiling song of beef and carrots, beans and corn, day and night. The stew will be packed in cans and shipped via Halifax to Europe. The contract was awarded by the Canadian government. The first half million cans should be ready by the middle of May.

WANTS UNIFORM BILL OF LADING

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Declaring that in two single instances, fraudulent bills of lading amounting to $11,000,000 had been negotiated without the guilty parties being prosecuted, Charles H. Haight of New York, representing the United States Chamber of Commerce, on Thursday made a plea before the house interstate commerce committee for the Pomerene bill providing a system of uniform bills of lading. President Wilson has endorsed the bill.

Attorney E. P. Smith of Omaha, representing western grain dealers, admitted the bill would add to the expense of railroads, but said it was justifiable because it would promote honesty in business. Charles A. Hinsch, Cincinnati, representing the American Bankers' association, said it was entirely too easy for dishonest men to obtain blank bills of lading for the purpose of forgery.

THE PERFECT LOVER

BY ELIZABETH E. HOYT

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

MollyFoss was one of seven girls who had grown up together in Easton. At the time of this story the girls had reached the early twenties. Four of them were married, one engaged and two were "keeping steady company," as they say. Molly alone had shown no signs of losing her heart. She had studied nursing, and she declared to her friends that to cure the sick was all she wanted in life. And, of course, she might have gone on nursing peaceably forever had not Dr. Richard Randall come to town.

From the very first, it was evident that the young doctor took a great interest in Molly. He saw a good deal of her, for she was the only trained nurse who lived in Easton, and in a small town like Easton if one person is very much interested in another everybody else is pretty sure to know it. However, the town was sorry to see that Molly apparently did not reciprocate D. Richard Randall's devotion, and no one except D. Richard himself, felt worse about this than Molly's girl friends.

The first to speak to Molly about it was Carrie Smith, who had been Carrie Waters. Carrie's husband had had an attack of pneumonia, and Molly had come to help Carrie out—and Dr. Randall was the doctor. This was when D. Randall was new, and Carrie was the first person to see that he was head over ears in love with Molly. And so one night she told her friend just what she thought of her indifference to the young doctor.

"Molly, my dear," she said, "I am going to speak to you plainly, for I think you can be saved something from my experience. I have never spoken about this before, but let me tell you it is a great thing to have the devotion of a man who is interested in the same things you are. My poor Henry doesn't care for a thing in the world but automobiles, and he'd rather look at a new catalogue than eat his dinner. My playing the piano disturbs him awfully. We haven't a thing to talk about evenings nor a pleasure to share. It almost breaks my heart sometimes. Think it over, Molly dear."

It was Helen Lake who spoke the next word to Molly about Dr. Richard. Helen was going with Ralph Griggs, a fine young man, but some four inches shorter than herself. "You ought to be mighty thankful, Molly Foss," Helen said, "to have a man like Dr. Randall to take you to places. I'd be pretty nice to him if I were you. He is so exactly the right size for you." Helen sighed. "Molly, I never spoke of this before, but a girl with such a chance as you have ought to appreciate a good tall man. Poor Ralph—sometimes he almost breaks my heart.

A week or so later, Molly was calling on Betty Arnold Wister, whose husband, Peter, had brought her much love and a salary of fifteen dollars a week. "Molly," said Betty. "Peter and I are just crazy over each other, but I'm sure it is really my duty to tell you how gloomy it is to think that the slightest mischance would send us both to the poorhouse. Oh, don't think I believe in marrying for money, Molly, but you ought to take it if you can get a good man, too. Dr. Randall is the most prosperous person in Easton. I never spoke before of poor Peter's—er—misfortune, but sometimes it almost breaks my heart."

Grace McPherson overtook Molly a few days later. "Molly," she said, "you may think it is none of my business and I am awfully silly, but you know I've seen quite a lot of Tom Sears lately, and I like him very much. But Sundays he just stays at home and smokes, and when he takes me home from evening meeting he always waits outside the church door. I feel so wicked, Molly! And all the good women of the church look at me so reproachfully, as if they were asking why I hadn't converted Tom yet. But if you knew how impossible—oh dear! when I see Dr. Richard Randall coming to church every Sunday, and especially last Sunday, when he took the boys' class in Sunday school—I just envied you, Molly, and I thought I ought to tell you what that means. I never spoke of it before, but although poor Tom's a darling, sometimes he almost breaks my heart."

Gertrude Fiske Ingraham called on Molly on purpose to deliver her message. "I am going to tell you frankly," she said, "that you don't half appreciate Dr. Richard Randall's family connections. I know a girl who lives in Rye, where his family came from, and she said his mother had just read a paper before the women's club on the mistake it was for relatives to come to live with a young couple. I vow I never spoke of this before, but what with Mother Ingraham and Grandmother Ingraham and Cousin Sophronia and Great-aunt Dorcas all living with Percy and me and all wanting to run the house, from pouring the tea to bringing up the baby, I tell you sometimes it almost breaks my heart."

Molly's dearest friend, Lou Thompson, who was to be married in June, came to Molly a few weeks before the wedding. "Molly," she confided, "I know you'll understand why I tell you this, for I'm doing it not to hurt John, but for your own sake. I love John, but he's so forgetful of little things that sometimes he almost breaks my heart. He doesn't take off his hat as soon as he comes into the house—and things like that, you know. I never dreamed of speaking of this before. Until you've had an experience like mine you won't know that manners can be more aggravating than anything else in the world. And you ought to know how important they are, Molly, for Dr. Richard Randall has the best manners I ever saw in any man in all my life. What is the matter with you, Molly? I know he must have asked you."

Then Molly unburdened herself. "Dear Lou," she said, "Richard Randall is too perfect. He is interested in the right things, he is the right size, he has a good income, he's got the best kind of habits, and the best kind of relatives, and he's eugenic and fatherly and generous, and he has the best disposition in the world. And, to cap the climax, he has absolutely flawless manners. Lou, I am not perfect myself, and I'm not going to marry a man who is. If I ever did a thing that wasn't quite right, or accepted, you know, Richard would never say a word, but I would feel his reproach to the end of my days. If I could only find one single little human failing in him I would marry him but I won't marry a perfect man, and if I were you, Lou Thompson, I'd be mighty thankful that John does sometimes forget to toke off his hat."

Dr. Richard Randall continued in his devotion and Molly Foss continued in her indifference until early last July. On the Fourth they were invited to dinner at the farm of Molly's Uncle Rufus King, several miles from Easton. That night as they were driving home in the soft summer darkness, for the seventh time Richard Randall asked Molly Foss to marry him, and to his infinite surprise she said yes without a moment's hesitation.

They were married in September and lived even more happily than their friends had predicted. Richard was perfectly satisfitd with Molly and Molly was perfectly satisfied with Richard, but one day, six months after the wedding, Richard looked at his wife very seriously and asked, "How was it that you said yes so suddenly on the way home from Uncle Rufus King's?"

"Dearest Richard," Molly said, kissing him, "it was because you ate your peas with a spoon."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

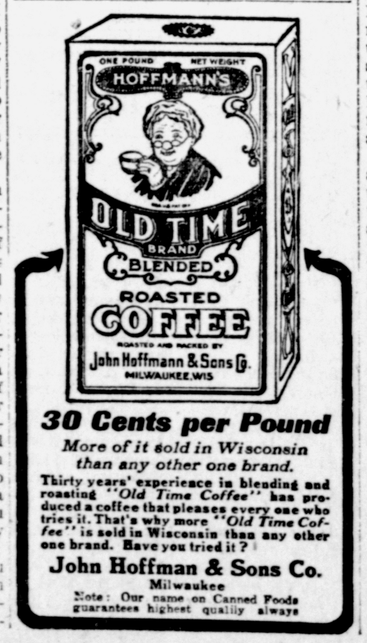

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds.

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores or openings in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons, and thus the skin scales and blisters, becomes red and raw and the skin of man is like so much tissue fire. Salves and lotions, plasters, etc., do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure is the only sensible and scientific method of relief. To make the blood pure you must assist nature in the way she wants to be helped. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is not a mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable in every essence. The blood welcomes S. S. S., and it quickly reaches the seat of the trouble. So great is the fame of this blood remedy that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. S. builds up weak and acidy blood, gives prompt relief to almost every case of eczema, winter tetter and other troublesome skin maladies. You owe yourself the duty of trying a bottle of S. S. S. Take no substitute. Write for our free book on skin diseases. Confidential letters replied to by our Medical expert if you will write Swift Specific Company, Department 33, Atlanta, Georgia.

SULLIVAN IN WASHINGTON

He had luncheon with Secretary Tumulty and went over in detail the democratic situation in Illinois.

WAR ODDITIES

LONDON.—A rent moratorium for wounded soldiers is said to be highly probable in Great Britain.

LONDON.—The armored aeroplane fund opened in India now amounts to more than $350,000.

UNCOVER HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

AUSTIN, Texas, April 14.—Hospital corps equipment of the Texas national guard came out of the storerooms and was put in shape for service, following receipt of reports from Washington and San Antonio. Officers here believed the Texas militia will soon be called to patrol the border.

TIRED LOOKING WOMEN

Some women always wear a worn, tired look. It is the outward sign of nervousness, neurasthenia perhaps, with its characteristic symptoms of worry, headaches and sleeplessness.

Overwork, grief, undue excitement, the late hours and nervous strain of a strenuous social season, lack of out-of-door exercise, any or all of these may be responsible for the trouble but the most common cause at this season of the year is the grip.

Whatever the cause, if you feel the need of more strength try the great non-alcoholic tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50.

Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and a diet book. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

FEVER RAVISHED FAMILY WHILE SNOW BARRICADES

CHISHOLM, Minn., April 14.—Breaking through isolating snows Gust Ruhonen, Finnish farmer, in the woods north of here, today reached Chisholm to buy four coffins for his children who died because snows prevented aid coming. While entirely cut off by snow, the family developed scarlet fever. Four of his five children died. Superhuman attempts to break through the snows failed. The four little bodies were laid alongside each other in a shed to freeze. Thus they stayed until Ruhonen, aided by thaws, fought his way into Chisholm, to get an undertaker, and a physician for his wife and fifth child.

SIMPSON STEALS HOME AND BADGERS BEAT NOTRE DAME

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 14.—First Baseman Simpson stole home in the ninth with two out and won the game for Wisconsin on Thursday from Notre Dame, 3 to 2. Score:

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

They absorbed the Federal league, but couldn't keep the Weather league from playing conflicting dates—as usual.

Two games, and no ex-Fed has a hero medal yet.

Herzog's Reds pounded Vaughn and Packard, the Cubs' high-toned left-handers to a pulp.

It was a big day for Crimson-stockinged guys, anyway. The Boston Red Sox did a little pulping also, thoroughly beating three of Mr. Mack's twirlers.

"Morton weakened in the eighth," sounds familiar. But "Browns win two in a row" looks unusual, but fine for the Miracle Man.

The first laurel wreath goes to Mr. Babe Adams, who held the Cardinals to one hit.

Mr. Kauff may be worth the money. Two bingles by the chesty gentleman helped the Giants along the well-known path to Gotham glory.

Ty Cobb was napping a little yesterday. Danforth struck him out and Schalk made two bases on a single because Ty merely lobbed the ball back to second.

But the Trojan came back with a vengeance. Cobb's two bagger scored three runs in the ninth and put the Sox fans on the anxious seat.

HARVARD TEAMS START

BOSTON, Mass., April 14.—Harvard's university teams began to travel today. The baseball team leaves for New York on an afternoon train accompanied by the la crosse team. The crew and tennis teams will leave tomorrow the tennis team going to Providence tomorrow afternoon, while the crew will spend Saturday and Sunday in New York.

COFFEY STOPS GEYER

NEW YORK, April 14.—Jim Coffey, heavyweight, stopped Jack Geyer in the fifth round of their scheduled ten round mill here last night. After Geyer was hit once in the first round he seemed to lose all interest in the scrap.

FAILURE TO COVER THIRD BASE LOSES GAME FOR PHILS

Doyle Draws Throw to Open Bag and Scores; Cincinnati Hops on the Cubs

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 14.—A bunted ball and the failure to cover third base proved the turning points of a pitching duel between Tesreau and Mayer on Thursday and New York defeated Philadelphia, 2 to 0. Neither team was able to score until the ninth inning, when Doyle led off for New York with a single.

Fletcher beat out a bunt, and when third base was left uncovered Doyle raced there, drawing a throw from Luderus while Brancroft was hustling for the bag. The ball went to left field and Doyle scored, while Fletcher, who reached second on the play, scored on Kauff's sacrifice and Merkle's single. Benny Kauff got two hits in as many times at bat. The score:

New York	..000000002—2	4	1
Philadelphia	..000000000—0	6	2

Batteries: Tesreau and Rariden; Mayer and E. Burns.

Reds 8, Cubs 3

CINCINNATI, O., April 14—Heavy hitting by Cincinnati, coupled with several errors of the losers, allowed the locals to take the second game of the series from Chicago here on Thursday, 8 to 3. Score:

Chicago	...000010110—3	8	4
Cincinnati	..01402010x—8	13	3

Batteries: Vaughn, Packard and Archer, Fischer; Dale and Clarke.

Pirates 4, Cards 0

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 14.—Adams allowed St. Louis but one hit and Pittsburgh shut out the locals on Thursday, 4 to 0. Score:

Pittsburgh	..000000400—4	8	1
St. Louis	..000000000—0	1	2

Batteries: Adams and Schmidt; Meadows, Sallee and Snyder.

K. C.'S TO HOLD BOWLING TOURNEY HERE NEXT MONTH

Knights Hope to Make Meet Greater Than That Recently Held by the La Crosse Association

A tournament, rivalling in size that recently held by the La Crosse Bowling association, is the plans of the Knights of Columbus of La Crosse, who, during the winter have maintained a league at the Lotus alleys. Jule Weissenberger, a member of a Knight's league, is a leading figure in the proposition. The tournament will be held here May 2-7.

That the Commodore Barry Knights of Chicago, 1915 and 1916 champions of the American Bowling association, will be here is the hope of Mique Malloy, a Knight and personally acquainted with the members of the Chicago champion team.

Councils from these cities will be present, it is hoped: Milwaukee, St. Paul, Dubuque, Winona, Rochester, Madison, Baraboo, Sparta, Tomah, Elroy, Arcadia, Hastings and Red Wing. A dozen or more Knights of Columbus teams will enter from La Crosse, it is hoped. Only Knights of Columbus will be eligible.

Our idea of true faith is that of a man who advertises for the return of a lost umbrella.

DANFORTH ACCUSED OF EMERY BALL IN WIN FOR THE SOX

Boston Repeats Win Victory Over Connie's Crew While Browns Defeat the Indians

CHICAGO, Ill., April 14.—Chicago batted Dauss hard on Thursday and won from Detroit, 8 to 6, though a ninth inning rally, in which Cobb cleared the bases with a double, counted five runs for the visitors.

Up to the ninth, Dave Danforth had Detroit practically helpless. Manager Jennings repeatedly called attention to the Chicago pitcher's habit of rubbing the ball on his clothes, but Umpire O'Loughlin failed to find in it any indication that a variety of the "emery ball" was being used.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Fred Fulton, lanky heavyweight who is on the trail of Jess Willard over the Al Reich, Jim Coffey, Frank Moran route, has increased his favor with the New York fans by his training work here. ANGLERS OFF TO OPEN SEASON ON STREAMS SATURDAY

Dawn Tomorrow Will Find Scores of Local Men Along the Banks with Rod and Creel

MANY TROUT ARE REPORTED

Minimum Length Has Been Put Up to Seven Inches and Bag Limit Is 45 for a Day

Laden down with boots, creels and rods, the annual exodus of trout fishermen started from the city last night. Scores of La Crosse Waltonians will be on the stream banks every where within fifty miles of La Crosse at daybreak Saturday morning, when the law's protection of the gamy brook-dwellers is relaxed.

Most Nearby

Most of the fishermen have gone to points within motoring distance of La Crosse, but at least two parties are off by train to the northern part of the state. Among these was a group headed by H. L. Starr, which has a game preserve with a fine trout stream in the deer country, and another led by Jule Freas and Emil Ruprecht, which is intending to spend several days along the streams about Wild Rose.

C. F. Calloway and H. Clay Evenson will leave this evening for Big Greek, near Bangor, accompanied by Rev. C. C. Rowlison of the First Congregational church and his son Carlos. County Clerk Bert A. Jolivette and Judge Leonard Kleeber were off for Sparta and the waters near Trout Falls. They will be joined Sunday by N. D. Tevis and Lars Instenes. A. M. Brayton left last night to join a Tomah party that is going to camp near Millston.

Mormon Coulee Creek will have its usual quota of anglers, among whom will be Charles Hoeschler, Joseph F. Boschert and Homer Hart. George Colwell and Albert Gibson headed a delegation bound for the streams around Norwalk. Dr. Jens Rosholt and some of his friends will be found early Saturday morning along Sand Lake Coulee.

Report Many Trout

From reports of the state conservation commission, there are more trout in Wisconsin streams this year than ever before, more of them and bigger ones. The stocking of rivers and streams by the state has been going on for years with the result that Wisconsin now can offer more inducements in the line of trout fishing than any other state in the union, except Montana.

The season for trout opens tomorrow in all but the following counties: Douglas, Bayfield, Ashland and Iron. The bag limit in all counties is 45 a day and, according to the new law, the minimum length must be seven inches. This is a change from last year, when the minimum was six inches.

Trout may be shipped from one point to another in the state, if accompanied by the consigner, in the number of 45.

All People do not Think Alike

About Henry Kitchell Webster's Novel

The Real Adventure

The New York Evening Post says:

In this story Mr. Webster has accomplished something within the range of neither Mr. Wells nor Mr. Galsworthy. The spirit is admirable and the thinking resolute. The best of the book is his conception of Rose and her utter fearlessness. Her conquest of Centropolis is a joyous venture because of its flavor of chilled steel and passionate courage. Mr. Webster has faced a woman's world and the shifting sands that are the common world of men and women, without shirking issues or surrendering his thoughts to pictures.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune, at the end of an editorial a column and a half long, entitled "The Fool's Adventure," says:

To discuss so silly a novel seriously seems to be giving it undue importance, but silliness sometimes reaches a pitch where it becomes mischievous. The printed word carries undue weight with some not very wise readers. The imitative author of The Real Adventure aimed to cater to, and flatter, feministic discontent. Quite unimportant little feminine persons, whose best excuse for being would be the fulfillment of their duties, will probably sigh to emulate Rose, not able to realize the falseness of the situation.
